under the

Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979

I, the Minister for Planning, make the following local environmental plan under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979. (S97/01883/PC)

ANDREW REFSHAUGE, M.P.,
Minister for Planning

Clause 1 Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (Amendment No 24)

Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (Amendment No 24)

1 Name of plan

This plan is Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (Amendment No 24).

2 Aims of plan

- (1) This plan aims to:
 - (a) protect the significant heritage values of the St Patrick's College Estate (the Estate), and
 - (b) reinforce the significance of the Estate and its role as a buffer area between the adjoining National Park and the adjacent urban areas, and
 - (c) allow residential development on certain land, and
 - (d) maintain the natural and cultural landscape qualities of the Estate, and
 - (e) protect the water quality of Spring Cove and Cabbage Tree Bay and sustain the existing natural drainage system, and
 - (f) permit uses within the heritage buildings on the Estate that are compatible with their historic significance, and
 - (g) allow the carrying out of extensions and additions to the principal heritage buildings within the Estate identified as "buildable areas" and other development of a minor nature, and
 - (h) ensure development on land to which this plan applies that is within the Residential Zone under Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (the 1988 plan) integrates with the established landscape and has minimal environmental impact on the heritage significance of the Estate and its flora and fauna.
- (2) The strategy used for attaining those aims is:
 - (a) to add provisions to the 1988 plan declaring objectives for development of the Estate and requiring development of that land to promote those objectives by being consistent with controls relating to all development of that land, and

Clause 2

- (b) to make more specific provisions for development of that land, including provisions for development of particular Precincts.

(See new clause 35 and Schedule 11)

This strategy is particularly aimed at protecting both the natural and built heritage of the Estate.

- (3) This plan also amends the definitions of the map and item of the environmental heritage in the 1988 plan:
- (a) to update the zoning of so much of St Patrick's Estate as is currently zoned Special Uses—Seminary by rezoning the land mainly to a new Special Uses (Seminary—Heritage) Zone and partly to the Residential Zone under the 1988 plan, and
- (b) to rezone such of the land currently zoned Special Uses—Church Purposes as is in identified Precincts 6 and 10 to the Residential Zone under the 1988 plan, and
- (c) to identify two items of the environmental heritage so that provisions of the 1988 plan promoting heritage conservation will apply to them.

Note. The location of each Precinct is shown on Sheet 1 of the supporting map which is marked "Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (Amendment No 24)" and Precincts are shown in greater detail on Sheets 4 and 5 of that map.

The rezoning is shown on Sheet 2 of that map. The locations of the new heritage items are shown on Sheet 3 of that map.

The map is available for inspection at the office of Manly Council.

3 Land to which plan applies

This plan applies to land situated in the local government area of Manly at St Patrick's Estate, in the locality of North Head, as shown edged heavy black on Sheet 1 of the map marked "Manly Local Environmental Plan 1988 (Amendment No 24)" deposited in the office of Manly Council.

PRACTICE NOTE No. 63

Defamation List

THIS Practice Note applies to actions commenced in the Sydney Registry of the Court only.

It is the intention of the Court that all actions for defamation, injurious falsehood or related claims of injury to reputation commenced in the Sydney Registry of the Court should be entered in the Defamation List irrespective of anticipated length of hearing.

All actions entered into the Defamation List will be managed from the moment of such entry by a judge having the control of the List or in their absence by another specially appointed judge.

Actions may be entered in the Defamation List by:

1. The plaintiff endorsing the statement of claim, or the defendant endorsing the notice of grounds of defence "DEFAMATION LIST" next under the heading and title on the statement of claim or the notice of grounds of defence, as the case may require.
2. The filing of a consent order, after the filing of the notice of grounds of defence, for entry of the action into the Defamation List.
3. Order of the Court on a notice of motion filed by the plaintiff or a defendant, who has filed a notice of grounds of defence, for entry of the action into the Defamation List, at any time after a notice of grounds of defence has been filed.
4. Order of the Court on its own motion.

Upon an action being entered in the Defamation List, the Registry will allocate a date in the next available Defamation List Directions List (which it is anticipated will be held fortnightly) for directions before the judge controlling the List, or in that judge's absence before another judge specially appointed by the Chief Judge. Directions will then be given as to the preparation of the proceedings for determination and the method of such determination.

In relation to matters in the Defamation List, the prescribed time pursuant to section 76A (2) (a) (i) of the District Court Act 1973, for the filing of a requisition for a jury for a trial pursuant to section 7A of the Defamation Act 1974, is one calendar month after the first return date allocated to the action at which the defendant is represented in Court. The Court will not extend the time for filing a requisition for jury unless there are exceptional circumstances. The consent of the parties is not of itself sufficient for the Court to extend the time for the filing of a requisition for jury.

The judge controlling the list may from time to time issue standard directions in relation to the conduct of matters in the list, including but not limited to, requirements for the provision of outlines of argument in relation to interlocutory applications, imposing a requirement to comply with Practice Note 33 in relation to matters such as service of pleadings, and the time for completion of interlocutory proceedings.

Dated: 30th October 2002.

The Hon. Justice R. O. BLANCH,
Chief Judge.

3. Exemption

An owners corporation of a strata scheme in its duties as a controller of premises in relation to the common property of the strata scheme is exempt from the provisions of Clauses 33 to 44 of the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation 2001, where:

- (1) All of the lots that comprise the strata scheme are occupied only as private dwellings (or are associated lots to lots that are occupied only as private dwellings);
- (2) The lots for the strata scheme include both a lot or lots that are occupied only as private dwellings (or are associated lots to a lot or lots that are occupied only as private dwellings) and a lot or lots that have a commercial use, however such exemption only applies to that part of the common property that is used exclusively by the occupants of the lot or lots occupied as private dwellings and their associated lots, and their invitees and visitors.

THREATENED SPECIES CONSERVATION
ACT 1995

ERRATUM

THE Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995, No. 101 notice which was published in the Government Gazette on 1 November 2002, No. 201, on pages 9355 and 9356, was incomplete. The Final Determination was not included. The Final Determination is now published following this erratum.

FINAL DETERMINATION

THE Scientific Committee, established by the Threatened Species Conservation Act, has made a Final Determination to list the Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest in the Sydney Basin Bioregion as an ENDANGERED ECOLOGICAL COMMUNITY in Part 3 of Schedule 1 of the Act. The listing of endangered ecological communities is provided for by Part 2 of the Act.

The Scientific Committee has found that:

1. Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest is the name given to the ecological community on high nutrient soils in the Illawarra area within the Sydney Basin Bioregion and is characterised by the following assemblage of species:

Adiantum formosum
Alectryon subcinereus
Alphitonia excelsa
Baloghia inophylla
Brachychiton acerifolius
Cassine australis
Cayratia clematidea
Celastrus australis
Cissus antarctica
Citriobatus pauciflorus
Dendrocnide excelsa
Diospyros pentamera
Diploglottis australis
Doodia aspera
Ehretia acuminata
Ficus spp.
Guioa semiglauca
Hibiscus heterophyllus
Legnephora moorei
Maclura cochinchinensis
Malaisia scandens
Pennantia cunninghamii
Piper novaehollandiae
Planchonella australis
Podocarpus elatus
Scolopia braunii
Streblus brunonianus
Toona ciliata
Wilkiea huegliana

2. The total species list of the community is considerably larger than that given above, with many species present in only one or two sites or in very small quantity. The species composition of a site will be influenced by the size of the site, recent rainfall or drought condition and by its disturbance (including fire) history. The number of species, and the above ground relative abundance of species will change with time since fire, and may also change in response to changes in fire regime (including changes in fire frequency). At any one time, above ground individuals of some species may be absent, but the species may be represented below ground in the soil seed banks or as dormant structures such as bulbs, corms, rhizomes, rootstocks or lignotubers. The list of species given above is of vascular plant species, the community also includes micro-organisms, fungi, cryptogamic plants and a diverse fauna, both vertebrate and invertebrate. These components of the community are poorly documented.

3. Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest has been recorded from the local government areas of Wollongong City, Shellharbour City, Shoalhaven City and Kiama Municipality (within the Sydney Basin Bioregion) and may occur elsewhere in the Bioregion.
4. Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest includes Subtropical Rainforest (Type 1), Moist Subtropical Rainforest (Type 2) and Dry Subtropical Rainforest (Type 3) of Mills, K & Jakeman, J. (1995) Rainforests of the Illawarra District (Coachwood Publishing, Jamberoo). (The classification of Mills & Jakeman was developed specifically for the Illawarra - in a broader context much of the community recognised here would fall within dry forest (suballiance 23) in Floyd, A. G. (1990). Australian rainforests in New South Wales (Vols 1 and 2, Surrey Beatty and Sons, Chipping Norton). Although rainforest canopies are generally closed, in highly disturbed stands the canopy may be irregular and open. Canopy height varies considerably, and structurally some stands are scrub.
5. Characteristic tree species in the Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest are Baloghia inophylla, Brachychiton acerifolius, Dendrocnide excelsa, Diploglottis australis, Ficus spp., Pennantia cunninghamii and Toona ciliata. Stands may have species of Eucalyptus, Syncarpia and Acacia as emergents or incorporated into the dense canopy.
6. Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest occurred mainly on the coastal Permian volcanics, but can occur on a range of geological substrates, mainly between Albion Park and Gerringong (termed the Illawarra Brush by Mills and Jakeman 1995) and north of Lake Illawarra on the Berkeley Hills (termed the Berkeley Brush by Mills & Jakeman 1995). The Illawarra Brush and Berkeley Brush originally covered about 13 600 ha and made up about 60% of the rainforest of the Illawarra area. Outlying occurrences of Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest also occur south to the Shoalhaven River and westwards into Kangaroo Valley, where areas of Permian volcanic soils occur. The community generally occurs on the coastal plain and escarpment foothills, rarely extending onto the upper escarpment slopes.
7. Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest provides habitat for the tree Daphnandra sp. C Illawarra, and in some drier stands the endangered vine Cynanchum elegans. The shrub Zieria granulata may grow near stands of Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest and in regrowth stands (K. Mills pers. comm.).
8. Small areas of Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest occur in Budderoo National Park, Macquarie Pass National Park, Morton National Park, Cambewarra Range Nature Reserve, Devils Glen Nature Reserve and Rodway Nature Reserve.
9. Large areas of Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest have been cleared for agriculture. Only about 3400 ha remains with about 13% of this (440 ha) in reserved areas (Mills & Jakeman 1995, L. Mitchell pers. comm). Illawarra

Subtropical Rainforest occurs mainly on private land and is inadequately protected. Compared with warm temperate rainforest it is under-represented in conservation reserves.

10. Remnants are small and fragmented and their long term viability is threatened. Weed invasion is a major threat and invasive exotic species include Lantana camara, Araujia sericiflora, Ageratina riparia, Ageratina adenophora, Delairea odorata, Senna pendula var glabra, Senna septemtrionalis, Tradescantia fluminensis, Cinnamomum camphora, Olea europea subsp. africana, Hedychium gardnerianum, Ligustrum lucidum, Ligustrum sinense, Passiflora subpeltata and Solanum mauritianum. Other threats include further clearing, quarrying, grazing, inappropriate fire regimes, rubbish dumping and hobby farm developments.
11. In view of the above the Scientific Committee is of the opinion that Illawarra Subtropical Rainforest in the Sydney Basin Bioregion is likely to become extinct in nature in NSW unless the circumstances and factors threatening its survival or evolutionary development cease to operate.

Dr CHRIS DICKMAN,
Chairperson,
Scientific Committee.

THREATENED SPECIES CONSERVATION ACT 1995

ERRATUM

THE Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995, No. 101 notice which was published in the Government Gazette on 1 November 2002, No. 201, on pages 9359 and 9360, was incomplete. The Final Determination was not included. The Final Determination is now published following this erratum.

FINAL DETERMINATION

THE Scientific Committee, established by the Threatened Species Conservation Act, has made a Final Determination to list the Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest in the Sydney Basin Bioregion as an ENDANGERED ECOLOGICAL COMMUNITY in Part 3 of Schedule 1 of the Act. The listing of endangered ecological communities is provided for by Part 2 of the Act.

The Scientific Committee has found that:

1. The Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest is the name given to the ecological community that occurs on basaltic soils (on Milton Monzonite), deep alluvium and soils of the Conjola Formation enriched by monzonite in the Milton Ulladulla area (within the Sydney Basin Bioregion) and is characterised by the following assemblage of species:
 - Acmena smithii*
 - Adiantum flabellifolium*
 - Alectryon subcinereus*
 - Aphanopetalum resinosum*
 - Arthropteris tenella*
 - Baloghia inophylla*

Breynia oblongifolia
Cissus antarctica
Cissus hypoglauca
Citriobatus pauciflorus
Clayoxylon australe
Dendrocnide excelsa
Diospyros australis
Doodia aspera
Eustrephus latifolius
Ficus spp.
Geitonoplesium cymosum
Gymnostachys anceps
Legnephora moorei
Malaisia scandens
Marsdenia rostrata
Notelaea venosa
Oplismenus imbecillus
Pandorea pandorana
Pellaea falcata
Pittosporum undulatum
Plectranthus parviflorus
Sarcopetalum harveyanum
Smilax australis
Stephania japonica
Streblus brunonianus
Syzygium australe
Toona ciliata

2. The total species list of the community is considerably larger than that given above, with many species present in only one or two sites or in very small quantity. The species composition of a site will be influenced by the size of the site, recent rainfall or drought condition and by its disturbance (including fire) history. The number of species, and the above ground relative abundance of species will change with time since fire, and may also change in response to changes in fire regime (including changes in fire frequency). At any one time, above ground individuals of some species may be absent, but the species may be represented below ground in the soil seed banks or as dormant structures such as bulbs, corms, rhizomes, rootstocks or lignotubers. The list of species given above is of vascular plant species, the community also includes micro-organisms, fungi, cryptogamic plants and a diverse fauna, both vertebrate and invertebrate. These components of the community are poorly documented.
3. The structure of Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest is dense forest up to 15 m high with an emergent tree layer to over 25 m often present. Characteristic tree species in the Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest include Clayoxylon australe, Acmena smithii, Dendrocnide excelsa, Ficus species, Syzygium australe, Streblus brunonianus, Baloghia inophylla and Toona ciliata (K. Mills pers. comm.). There is generally a sparse shrub layer and ground cover with a diverse mix of lianas, vines, and ferns, or if disturbed there are components of indigenous native species sufficient to facilitate the restoration of the characteristic habitat.
4. The name Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest is an appropriate description for rainforest in the Milton-Ulladulla area. In a broader context the rainforests in the area fall into both subtropical (suballiance 14) and dry rainforest (suballiance 23) in Floyd's 1990 classification (Floyd, A.G. 1990. Australian rainforests in New South Wales Vols. 1 and 2. Surrey Beatty and Sons, Chipping Norton).
5. Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest provides habitat for several threatened species including the Powerful Owl, Ninox strenua and the Grey-headed Flying Fox, Pteropus poliocephalus. The community contains many "subtropical" rainforest plant species that are found no further to the south, and are rare on the South Coast (K. Mills pers. comm.).
6. Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest has been recorded from the local government area of Shoalhaven (within the Sydney Basin Bioregion) and may occur elsewhere in the Bioregion.
7. Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest occurs in one conservation reserve, Yatteyattah Nature Reserve.
8. Large areas of Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest have been cleared leaving remnants that are small and fragmented and surrounded by agricultural land. Remnant rainforest in this region has been found to suffer from edge effects, associated with grazing, light intrusion, wind and weed invasion. Other threats include urban developments, cutting of trees for firewood, fires, rubbish dumping, road widening and utility easements.
9. In view of the above the Scientific Committee is of the opinion that Milton Ulladulla Subtropical Rainforest in the Sydney Basin Bioregion is likely to become extinct in nature in NSW unless circumstances and factors threatening its survival or evolutionary development cease.

CONTAMINATED LAND MANAGEMENT ACT 1997

Environment Protection Authority
Declaration of Remediation Site
Section 21 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997

Declaration Number: 21029.
Area Number: 3348.

THE Environment Protection Authority declares the following land to be a remediation site under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997:

1. Land to which this declaration applies (“the site”):

Those parts of:

- Lot 511 in DP 857427, located at 1398 Kings Highway, West Nelligen, and
- Lot 2 in DP 1016792, located on Old Bolaro Road, West Nelligen, in the local government area of Eurobodalla, being part of a former clay target shooting range, that are indicated on the attached map.

2. Nature of the substances causing the contamination (“the contaminant”):

Lead (from lead shot).

3. Nature of harm that the substance may cause:

The Environment Protection Authority has considered the matters in section 9 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997, and found that:

- Lead would not be expected to occur naturally at this site;
- Lead shot, which is pure lead, has been identified as being spread over a large proportion of the land surface of the site;
- Lead is a possible human carcinogen and is toxic to humans and animals including cattle;
- Lead is persistent in the environment and is bioaccumulative;
- The site is zoned Rural 1C under the Eurobodalla Rural Local Environmental Plan 1987 and can be used for agricultural purposes (including grazing) without consent.

The site is contaminated with the contaminant in such a way as to present a significant risk of harm to human health and the environment. In particular:

- Harm may be caused to humans using part of the site for agricultural purposes due to increased exposure to the contaminant;
- The contaminant has precluded the use of a significant proportion of the site for cattle grazing; and,
- Harm may be caused to the environment, including to fauna and aquatic ecosystems, as there is the potential for migration of the contaminant towards surface water bodies.

4. Further action under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997

The making of this declaration does not prevent the carrying out of a voluntary remediation of the site and any person may submit a voluntary remediation proposal for the site to the Environment Protection Authority. If the Environment Protection Authority is satisfied the proposal meets the requirements of section 26 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997, the Environment Protection Authority may agree not to issue a remediation order to a party to the proposal, if the remediation is carried out in accordance with the proposal.

5. Submissions invited

The Environment Protection Authority advises that the public may make written submissions to the Environment Protection Authority on:

- whether the Environment Protection Authority should issue a remediation order in relation to the site and/or
- any other matter concerning the site.

Submissions should be made in writing to:

Director Contaminated Sites,
Environment Protection Authority,
PO Box A290,
SYDNEY SOUTH NSW 1232,
or faxed to: (02) 9995 5930,

by not later than 6 December 2002.

CAROLYN STRANGE,
Acting Director Contaminated Sites,
Environment Protection Authority
(by delegation).

Dated: 6 November 2002.

NOTE:

Remediation order may follow

If remediation of the site or part of the site is required, the Environment Protection Authority may issue a remediation order under section 23 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997.

Variation/Revocation

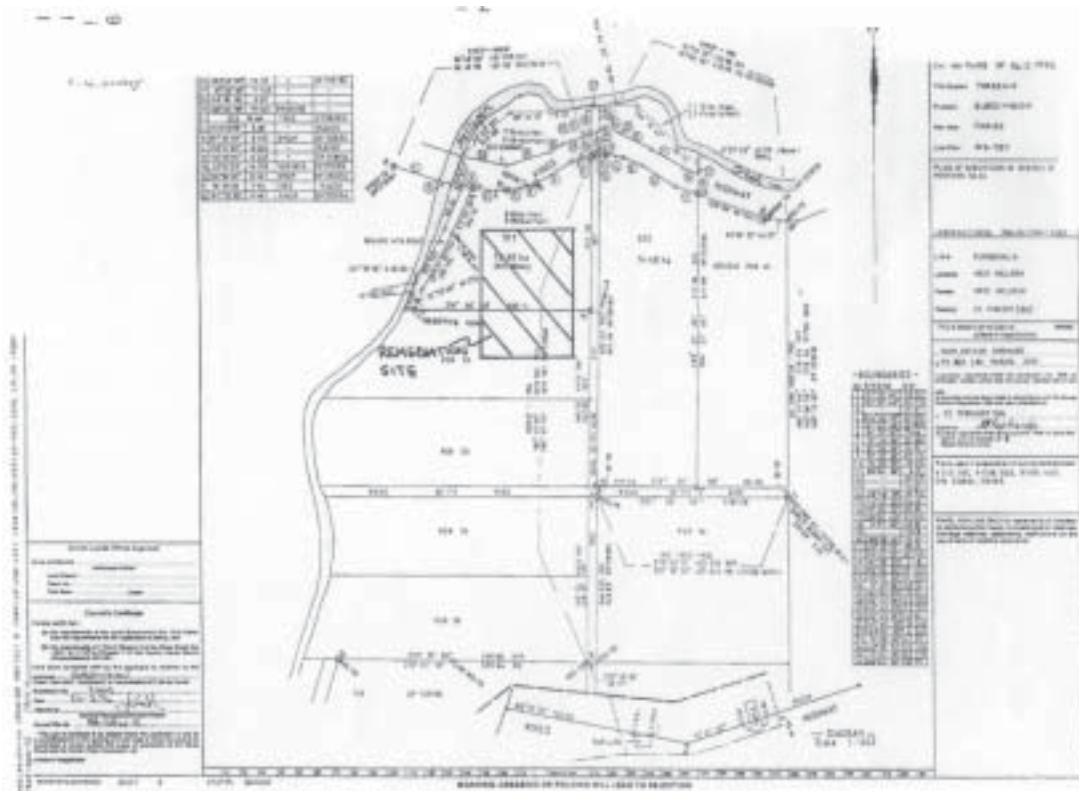

This declaration remains in force until it is otherwise varied or revoked. A declaration may only be revoked when the Environment Protection Authority does not have reasonable grounds to believe that land is contaminated in such a way as to present a significant risk of harm (section 44 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997).

Information recorded by the Environment Protection Authority

Section 58 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997, requires the Environment Protection Authority to maintain a public record. A copy of this declaration will be included in the public record.

Information recorded by councils

Section 59 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997, requires the Environment Protection Authority to inform the relevant local council as soon as practicable that this declaration has been made. The council is then required to note on its planning certificates issued pursuant to section 149 (2) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, that the land is currently within a remediation site. The Environment Protection Authority is required to notify council as soon as practicable when the declaration is no longer in force, and the notation will no longer be required on the certificate.
