Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Amendment (Inspection) Regulation 2003

under the

Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Act 1997

Her Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Regulation under the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Act 1997.

CARL SCULLY, M.P.,
Minister for Roads

Explanatory note

The object of this Regulation is to amend the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 1998 (the Principal Regulation):

- (a) to alter the manner in which vehicles are classified for the purposes of inspection by the Roads and Traffic Authority (the RTA), from a vehicle's tare mass limit (that is, its weight when unloaded) to its gross vehicle mass (GVM) (that is, its weight when carrying a maximum load), and
- (b) to provide for the charging of a further inspection fee when a registrable vehicle is not presented for an inspection in accordance with an agreement between the registered operator of the vehicle and the RTA.

Under current arrangements, the registered operator of a registrable vehicle pays a periodic inspection fee in advance of the inspection of the vehicle. It is proposed that where the registrable vehicle is not presented for an inspection at the date, time and place for the inspection as agreed between the operator and the RTA, the inspection fee for that inspection is forfeited to the RTA, unless the operator, not later than 24 hours before the agreed time, advises the RTA of a cancellation. If the vehicle is subsequently presented for inspection, a further inspection fee must be paid to the RTA before the vehicle is inspected (unless otherwise determined by the RTA).

Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Amendment (Inspection) Regulation 2003

Explanatory note

This Regulation also:

- (a) clarifies the distinction between directed and periodic inspections of registrable vehicles under clauses 61 and 62, respectively, of the Principal Regulation, and
- (b) introduces 2 fees for the registration or renewal of registration of buses or other vehicles (other than public passenger vehicles), seating more than 8 adult persons, with a GVM of less than 12 tonnes and with a GVM of 12 tonnes or more, respectively, and
- (c) replaces the schedule of fees with a schedule that is more reader-friendly.

This Regulation is made under the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Act 1997, including section 14 (the general regulation-making power) and, in particular, section 14 (7).

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY ACT 2000

Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety
Data Sheets

Citation

1. This Code of Practice may be cited as the Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets.

Object

2. The object of this Code of Practice is to adopt practices recommended in the National Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets, issued by the National Occupational Health and Safety Commission, as amended from time to time, and thereby provide practical guidance on the preparation of material safety data sheets for hazardous substances and dangerous goods used at work.

Commencement

3. This Code of Practice commences on 24 April 2006.

Repeal of previous edition

4. The Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets 1996 as published by WorkCover NSW and printed in the Government Gazette on 17 May 1996, and which commenced on 12 July 1996, is hereby revoked on 24 April 2006, as provided by section 45 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2000.

Authority

5. This Code of Practice is approved as an Industry Code of Practice pursuant to section 43 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2000, by the Minister for Commerce, on the recommendation of the WorkCover Authority.

Definition

6. In this Code of Practice, the National Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets, means the Code of Practice declared by the National Occupational Health and Safety Commission, under section 38(1) of the National Occupational Health and Safety Commission Act 1985, of the Commonwealth, and as amended from time to time by the Commission, as published in the Chemical Gazette of the Commonwealth.

Adoption

7. The National Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets has effect as if it formed part of this Code of Practice, as provided by section 41(2) of the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2000.

Explanatory notes:

Purpose of this code

Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS) are a widely used way of conveying health and safety information to users of chemicals in workplaces. Manufacturers and importers have an obligation under the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation 2001 to prepare MSDS, and suppliers must pass these on to persons who use these chemicals at work.

This notice adopts the National Code of Practice for the Preparation of Material Safety Data Sheets (Code) as an approved industry code of practice, in NSW. The Code provides detailed guidance about the information that should be provided to ensure health and safety. Adopting this national Code means that suppliers can be confident of meeting the requirements of all Australian jurisdictions.

The previous edition of this Code is revoked from 26 April 2003.

The Code contains new provisions in the form of a 16 header format, to replace the 8 header format in the previous edition. This is consistent with international formats, such as the ILO and US requirements. In practice, for imported substances and goods, many MSDS will already be in the new format.

The Code also introduces new recommendations for MSDS for dangerous goods, in addition to the existing guidance for hazardous substances. Note that the definition of dangerous goods in the Code includes combustible liquids classified as C1 by the Australian Standard AS 1940, the storage and handling of flammable and combustible liquids.

Transition

For chemicals and substances newly introduced to the market, and for dangerous goods (not otherwise classified as hazardous substances), the new format should be used from 24 April 2006, at the latest. For existing hazardous substances, manufacturers and importers must review MSDS as required by sub-clause 150(6) of the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation 2001, which is at most five years from the first preparation date or previous review date. Consequently, it is suggested that the format in the new Code be used following this review, which may be earlier than the commencement date.

Where to obtain copies

Copies of the Code of practice are available from the Internet site for the National Commission: www.nohsc.gov.au. A copy is available for inspection by members of the public without charge at the WorkCover principal office during normal office hours. WorkCover NSW will no longer publish the code of practice. The latest edition at the time of printing of this notice was the second edition, NOHSC 2011 (2003). Note that section 41(2) of the Act provides for automatic updating when a new edition published by NOHSC. This and other relevant updating information on chemicals is published in the Chemical Gazette of the Commonwealth (available via the Internet site: www.nicnas.gov.au/publications).

Information about WorkCover NSW and occupational health and safety is provided on the Internet site: www.workcover.nsw.gov.au.
