NSW SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Final Determination

ERRATUM

THE NSW Scientific Committee Final Determination published in the Government Gazette on the 13 February 2004, Gazette No. 35, folios 628 to 631 was published incorrectly. The full Final Determination is now republished in full.

Final Determination

THE Scientific Committee, established by the Threatened Species Conservation Act, has made a Final Determination to list the Entanglement in or ingestion of anthropogenic debris in marine and estuarine environments as a KEY THREATENING PROCESS in Schedule 3 of the Act. Listing of key threatening processes is provided for by Part 2 of the Act.

The Scientific Committee has found that:

1. Anthropogenic debris in marine and estuarine environments (usually known as marine debris) is defined as pollution by human-generated objects (Faris and Hart 1996). Marine debris is mostly comprised of fishing gear, packaging materials, convenience items and raw plastics (Pruter 1987). The major sources of marine debris are from ship waste, recreational activities, aquaculture industry and both urban and rural discharges into rivers, estuaries and coastal areas (Faris and Hart 1996, Frost and Cullen 1997, Herfort 1997).
2. There is an increasing quantity of marine debris entering the marine environment every year (Laist 1987, Jones 1995). In particular, the use of plastics in the fishing industry has become more widespread in the last four decades and this has resulted in large quantities of debris entering marine and estuarine environments (Henderson 2001).
3. Marine debris may be transported long distances by oceanic currents and is concentrated at convergence fronts and in coastal waters (Shaw and Mapes 1979, Carr 1987). These marine areas are also highly productive ecosystems that support high densities of marine species and leads to their exposure to marine debris (Carr 1987).

Marine debris is known to entangle and be ingested by marine, estuarine and pelagic vertebrate species. Entanglement and ingestion may occur either accidentally while feeding or scavenging, or deliberately if marine debris is mistaken for prey items (Laist 1987). It can also be regurgitated by adult birds as food for hatchlings (Cooper 1995, Huin and Croxall 1996). Sub-lethal effects of entanglement or ingestion of marine debris may reduce an individual's fitness and ability to successfully reproduce, catch prey and avoid predation (Ryan 1990, Pemberton et al. 1992).

4. Detrimental effects of entanglement with marine debris include strangulation, increased drag, lacerations, infection and loss of limbs. Ingestion of marine debris may lead to the blockage and/or perforation of an individual's digestive system (Prendergast and Johnson 1996), or potentially, poisoning by polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs). High levels of PCBs can suppress an individual's immunity or reproductive ability (Hutchinson and Simmonds 1992), and amounts of ingested plastic have been positively correlated with levels of PCBs in seabirds (Ryan et al. 1988).
5. Several studies have investigated the impact of marine debris on seals in Australian waters. A study of the New Zealand Fur-seal, Arctocephalus forsteri, population on Kangaroo Island found 0.8% of the population suffers entanglements each year (Page et al. 2003). In Tasmanian waters between 1989 and 1993, 136 Australian Fur-seals, A. pusillus, were observed with plastic neck collars (Pemberton et al. 1992). Observations of juvenile Australian Fur-seals on Montague Island found entanglement around the neck by rope, strap or portions of trawl net on seven occasions (Shaughnessy et al. 2001).
6. Records of injured and dead marine wildlife are kept by NSW National Parks & Wildlife Service (K. Waples, pers. comm.) and Taronga Zoo (L. Hall, pers. comm.). These databases show a wide variety of marine vertebrates are impacted by entanglement in line, the presence of hooks in the mouth or gut, wounds caused by line or net and gastric impaction by plastic bodies. A study of 173 estuaries along the NSW coast found at least 10% of the Australian Pelican, Pelicanus conspicillatus, population to be suffering from entanglement by fishing line (L. Ferris pers. comm.). Overseas studies show that most albatross and giant-petrel species ingest plastic debris and regurgitate it as food for their offspring (Fry et al. 1987, Ryan 1987, Sileo et al. 1990, Huin and Croxall 1996, Robertson 1998).
7. Cases of entanglement with and ingestion of marine debris have been recorded in the following species and populations that are threatened in NSW:

Endangered Species

Caretta caretta	Loggerhead Turtle
Diomedea exulans	Wandering Albatross
Macronectes giganteus	Southern Giant-petrel

Vulnerable Species

Chelonia mydas	Green Turtle
Dermochelys coriacea	Leathery Turtle
Diomedea gibsoni	Gibson's Albatross
Diomedea melanophris	Black-browed Albatross
Arctocephalus pusillus	Australian Fur-seal
Arctocephalus forsteri	New Zealand Fur-seal
Megaptera novaeangliae	Humpback Whale
Physeter catadon	Sperm Whale

Endangered Population

Little Penguin, Eudyptula minor, population in the Manly Point Area.

8. Entanglements with and ingestion of marine debris are likely to affect the following species that are threatened in NSW:

Endangered Species

Caretta caretta	Loggerhead Turtle
Diomedea exulans	Wandering Albatross
Macronectes giganteus	Southern Giant-petrel

Vulnerable Species

Chelonia mydas	Green Turtle
Dermochelys coriacea	Leathery Turtle
Diomedea gibsoni	Gibson's Albatross
Diomedea melanophris	Black-browed Albatross
Arctocephalus pusillus	Australian Fur-seal
Arctocephalus forsteri	New Zealand Fur-seal
Megaptera novaeangliae	Humpback Whale
Physeter catadon	Sperm Whale

Endangered Population

Little Penguin, Eudyptula minor, population in the Manly Point Area.

9. Entanglement with and ingestion of marine debris could cause the following species or populations that are not threatened to become threatened in NSW:

Numenius madagascariensis	Eastern Curlew
Numenius phaeopus	Whimbrel
Limosa lapponica	Bar-tailed Godwit
Puffinus gavia	Fluttering Shearwater

10. In view of the above the Scientific Committee is of the opinion that Entanglement in or ingestion of anthropogenic debris in marine and estuarine environments adversely affects two or more threatened species or populations, or could cause species or populations that are not threatened to become threatened.

I also prohibit the taking of prawns by specified methods and in specified parts of the Clarence River if (subject to the conditions attached to this notification):

1. The District Fisheries Officer determines in writing that the specified methods and specified parts of the estuary shall be temporarily closed, when any one of the following criteria are found:

 - b) the number of prawns captured by endorsed estuary prawn trawl fishers is greater than a count of 200 prawns per half kilogram of the vessel's unsorted catch (ie. during or immediately after the catch is removed from the cod-end of the net), or

A closure made through a determination by the District Fisheries Officer takes effect when a notice is placed or caused to be placed in prominent locations on or adjacent to the waters to which the fishing closure applies. The notice must clearly specify the date and location of the sample or inspection, the methods and/or waters that are closed and the period during which the closure applies.

CONTAMINATED LAND MANAGEMENT ACT 1997

Environment Protection Authority

Declaration of remediation site

Section 21 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997

Declaration Number 21054

The Environment Protection Authority (the "EPA") declares the following land to be a remediation site under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 ("the Act"):

1. Land to which this declaration applies ("the site")

The former shale oil refinery at Hartley Vale (Lot 3 DP 836542 and part of Lot 52 DP 867197. A map which shows the site as the 'Refinery Operation Area' has been prepared and is available for inspection at the Department of Environment and Conservation's Head Office, Level 15, 59-61 Goulburn Street, Sydney.

2. Nature of the substances causing the contamination:

- Waste liquid tar. The chemical composition of liquid tar includes Polycyclic Aromatic Hydrocarbons and a wide range of Total Petroleum Hydrocarbons.

3. Nature of harm that the substance may cause:

The EPA has considered the matters in s.9 of the Act and found that:

- The site is impacted by poorly contained waste liquid tar.

There is a significant risk that:

- Harm will be caused to humans from the increased risk of exposure to the contamination via inhalation or ingestion of, or dermal contact with, the tar related chemicals.

- Harm will be caused to the environment and particularly to the surface water and groundwater systems because the poorly contained waste tar has the potential to breach, or may have already breached, the containment pits.

4. Further action under the Act

The making of this declaration does not prevent the carrying out of a voluntary remediation of the site and any person may submit a voluntary remediation proposal for the site to the EPA. If the proposal satisfies the requirements of s.26 of the Act, the EPA may agree not to issue a remediation order to the person or persons bringing the proposal.

5. Submissions invited

The EPA advises that the public may make written submissions to the EPA on:

- Whether the EPA should issue a remediation order in relation to the site or
- Any other matter concerning the site.

Submissions should be made in writing to:

Director Contaminated Sites
 Environment Protection Authority
 PO Box A290
 SYDNEY SOUTH NSW 1232

or faxed to: 02 9995 5930

by not later than 15 March 2004

CAROLYN STRANGE,
 Director Contaminated Sites
 Department of Environment and Conservation
 Date: 13 February 2004

NOTE:Remediation order may follow

If remediation of the site or part of the site is required, the EPA may issue a remediation order under s.23 of the Act.

Variation/Revocation

This declaration remains in force until it is otherwise varied or revoked. A declaration may only be revoked when the EPA does not have reasonable grounds to believe that land is contaminated in such a way as to present a significant risk of harm (s.44 of the Act).

Information recorded by the EPA

S.58 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 requires the EPA to maintain a public record. A copy of this remediation declaration will be included in the public record.

Information recorded by councils

S.59 of the Act requires the EPA to give a copy of this declaration to the relevant local council. The council is then required to note on its planning certificate issued pursuant to s.149 (2) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act that the land is currently within a declaration area. The EPA is required to notify council as soon as practicable when the declaration is no longer in force and the notation on the s.149 (2) certificate is removed.

CONTAMINATED LAND MANAGEMENT ACT 1997

Environment Protection Authority

Declaration of remediation site

Section 21 of the Contaminated Land Management Act
1997

Declaration Number 21011

The Environment Protection Authority (the "EPA") declares the following land to be a remediation site under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 ("the Act"):

1. Land to which this declaration applies ("the site")

- Lot 21 in DP 546139 and Lot 127 in DP 257531, owned by Port Kembla Copper Pty Ltd, located between Military and Darcy Roads, Port Kembla; and
- Lot 22 in DP 546139, owned by Orica IC Assets Ltd, located on Darcy Road, Port Kembla.

2. Nature of the substances causing the contamination

Groundwater beneath the site is contaminated by metal ions including arsenic, cadmium, copper, lead, zinc, nickel, manganese as well as elevated concentrations of sulphate and low pH as a result of historical copper smelting activities.

3. Nature of harm that the substances may cause

The EPA has considered the matters in s.9 of the Act and found that:

- Groundwater, which is migrating towards Port Kembla Harbour, located approximately 500 metres from the site, is contaminated with elevated levels of metal and sulphate ions and has a low pH; and
- The contaminated groundwater has migrated off-site into adjacent industrial land.

A significant risk of harm exists as the contaminants can be toxic to aquatic life, which would be a particular concern if the contaminated groundwater were to reach the Harbour. Also, the contamination has degraded the quality of the groundwater and has the potential to affect future beneficial uses of the groundwater (e.g. industrial uses).

4. Work already undertaken

Extraction of deeper groundwater and above ground treatment commenced in June 1997. To date, more than 20,000m³ of groundwater has been extracted. Remediation works have also been carried out in an open area of land in the northern section of the site, known as the Fume Storage Area. The works, which were completed in August 2000, included the removal of industrial residues for treatment and disposal, as well as the installation of a shallow groundwater interception system and remediation of the land.

5. Further action under the Act

The making of this declaration does not prevent the carrying out of a voluntary remediation of the site and any person may submit a voluntary remediation proposal for the site to the EPA. If the proposal satisfies the requirements of section 26 of the Act, the EPA may agree not to issue a remediation order to the person or persons bringing the proposal.

6. Submissions invited

The EPA advises that the public may make written submissions to the EPA on:

- Whether the EPA should issue a remediation order in relation to the site or
- Any other matter concerning the site.

Submissions should be made in writing to:

Director Contaminated Sites
Department of Environment and Conservation
PO Box A290
SYDNEY SOUTH NSW 1232

or faxed to: 02 9995 5930

by not later than 15 March 2004.

CAROLYN STRANGE,
Director Contaminated Sites
Department of Environment and Conservation

Date: 13 February 2004

NOTE:

Remediation order may follow

If remediation of the site or part of the site is required, the EPA may issue a remediation order under s.23 of the Act.

Variation/Revocation

This declaration remains in force until it is otherwise varied or revoked. A declaration may only be revoked when the EPA does not have reasonable grounds to believe that land is contaminated in such a way as to present a significant risk of harm (s.44 of the Act).

Information recorded by the EPA

S.58 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 requires the EPA to maintain a public record. A copy of this remediation declaration will be included in the public record.

Information recorded by councils

S.59 of the Act requires the EPA to give a copy of this declaration to the relevant local council. The council is then required to note on its planning certificate issued pursuant to s.149 (2) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act that the land is currently an area covered by a declaration issued under the Act. The EPA is required to notify council as soon as practicable when the declaration is no longer in force and the notation on the s.149 (2) certificate is removed.

PRACTICE NOTE No 127

Use of Technology in Civil Litigation

This Practice Note replaces Practice Note No 105 and will apply from 1 March 2004.

PURPOSE

1. The aim of this practice note is to
 - (a) encourage the use of information technology as a means of improving the efficiency of civil litigation in general;
 - (b) emphasise the court's power to require the use of technology in particular cases or circumstances;
 - (c) offer guidelines on the matters parties in civil actions ought to take into account in deciding how to make use of technology;
 - (d) offer examples and suggested standards to assist parties in agreeing upon the extent and manner in which they will use technology to exchange information.

ENCOURAGING THE USE OF TECHNOLOGY

2. All parties in civil proceedings are required at all stages of their litigation to consider the prospect of using technology for the purposes of information exchange and at trial itself. In preparing a case for trial the parties are specifically encouraged to
 - (a) use electronic data to create lists of their discoverable documents;
 - (b) give discovery by exchanging databases created in accordance with an agreed protocol;
 - (c) exchange electronic versions of documents such as pleadings and statements;
 - (d) arrange for inspection of discovered material, and other material to be inspected by way of images if appropriate; and
 - (e) consider the use of electronic data at trial in accordance with the Court's requirements.

Glossary of technical terms

For the purposes of a better understanding of this practice note, some definitions of technical terms appear in the annexed Glossary.

COURT MAY DIRECT PARTIES

3. The Court retains the power to direct parties to use information technology in appropriate cases. Parties shall comply with any directions issued by the Court in relation to the use of technology and shall comply with any requirements published by the Court in relation to issues concerning the use of technology, such as document formats.
4. It should be noted that whilst this practice note is advisory in nature the Court may mandate the use of the technology standards it describes in cases where the parties fail to agree on exchange and presentation mechanisms within a reasonable time frame.

ELECTRONIC EXCHANGE OF COURT DOCUMENTS

5. Where a party serves a pleading, affidavit, statement, list of documents or interrogatory on another party, the recipient may ask the first party to also provide a copy of it in an electronic format.
6. The Court expects parties to accede to reasonable requests for copies of court documents in an electronic format. Before providing copies the parties shall make all reasonable efforts to agree upon:
 - (a) the word processing or other format in which electronic versions will be provided;
 - (b) the methods by which electronic versions will be exchanged; and
 - (c) any other terms and conditions of electronic exchange.

Document formats

7. Where appropriate the parties may wish to agree upon the preparation of a document in a structured format, such as HTML, so that hypertext links can be made where appropriate. For example, if a document refers to a document ID, a hypertext link can be made to the relevant document image.

Content of court documents

8. A court document provided by a party in electronic format shall contain the same text as the paper copy. Where a court document contains an annexure, however, the text of the annexure will be expected to be contained within the electronic copy only where the annexure was created for the purposes of the litigation by or on behalf of that party or that party's solicitor.

Risk of computer viruses

9. Generally it will not be regarded as unreasonable for a party to provide documents in electronic format subject to a condition that it is the responsibility of the recipient to test it for viruses.

Providing electronic copies to the Court itself

10. The Court may direct a party to provide the Court with copies of court documents in an electronic format. A party who provides a document to the Court in electronic format shall provide appropriate written warnings about the need to test for viruses.

ELECTRONIC EXCHANGE OF DISCOVERY LISTS AND DOCUMENTS:

11. As a general rule the Court will expect the parties to consider preferring the use of technology to exchange information where they believe more than 500 documents between them will be discoverable. Decisions about the appropriate use of technology will be better informed if the parties have identified early in the proceedings the scope of discovery and the categories of documents likely to be discovered.

Agreeing by written protocol

12. Where the parties agree that discovery should be given by exchange of electronic data they should:
- (a) endeavour to reach agreement early in the proceedings on the protocol to be used and the scope of that protocol; and
 - (b) seek either consent orders or directions from the Court, if agreement is not reached, concerning the terms of the protocol.

Directions by the Court

13. The Court may make orders that parties:
- (a) meet to discuss how best to use information technology to exchange information about their discoverable documents;
 - (b) make written submissions on how best to use technology with respect to discovery and the management of information in the proceedings generally.
14. As a general rule, by the second directions hearing the Court will expect each party:
- (a) to have investigated the number and categories of documents likely to be discoverable by that party, taking into account any limits on discovery that may be agreed between the parties or are the subject of a direction by the Court;
 - (b) to have attempted to agree with the other parties on whether and how to use technology to exchange lists of their discoverable documents; and
 - (c) to be able to make informed submissions about whether and how technology should be used to exchange lists of their discoverable documents.

Technology checklist

15. In developing a protocol on electronic exchange the parties shall consider the matters described in the annexed Technology Check List. The checklist is a guide only and parties should feel free to agree on appropriate changes to it. However, if the parties are unable to agree on a protocol then the default options indicated in the checklist will apply as a minimum standard.

Recommended fields

16. The fields and associated guidelines described in the annexed Recommend Fields are those which ought to be used for the purpose of electronic exchange and which, in the absence of agreement to the contrary by the parties, may be mandated by the Court in a given case.

Verification of electronic lists

17. Each party shall consider how lists of documents shall be verified where data about those documents is to be exchanged electronically.

Orders to dispense with verifications by affidavit

18. Existing rules of Court presuppose that a hard copy list of documents will be verified by affidavit. Where a party believes that it is appropriate to dispense with verification of a hard copy list, that party should ask the Court for an appropriate direction.

Verification by reference to method of service

19. As an alternative to verification of a hard copy list, the parties may wish to consider asking for a direction that the verifying affidavit identify the documents by reference to the medium by which the data was served and the date of service. For example, the affidavit may refer, in a hypothetical case, to: the documents described in the database contained on the compact disks served on the defendant under cover of letters date 21 January, 24 January and 29 March 2003.

Providing electronic lists of documents to the Court itself

20. The parties shall consider whether data relating to their discoverable documents should be provided to the Court in addition to any hard copy list.

USE OF TECHNOLOGY DURING A HEARING

21. Where parties have used databases or databases and associated documents or images to facilitate discovery and inspection, the parties should consider and make submissions about how best to use technology at the hearing. For example, the parties' discovery databases might form the basis of an index to the agreed bundle, or for the creation of a database of documents admitted into evidence and rulings on the admissibility of documents.

Equipment at hearing

22. More generally, the parties should consider:
- (a) the equipment and services that they and the Court may require at the trial including appropriate hardware, software and additional infrastructure; and
 - (b) the arrangements that may need to be made between the parties, the Court and any third party service providers to ensure that appropriate equipment and services are available at the hearing.

(a) Image Resolution

Images may be scanned in at around 200 dpi. Any greater file size may be unworkable.

(b) Filename Structure

Images may be named identically to the relevant Document ID or according to the agreed folder structure. If images are named in accordance with the naming convention of the full document ID then the dots within the Document ID may be omitted (other than the dot preceding the file extension).

(c) Special Considerations

Consideration should be given to

- whether there are any special requirements, such as redacting (masking).
- the implications of using technology in respect of information that may be subject to confidentiality orders or undertakings.

(d) Recommended fields and default fields

The Court encourages the use of the field definitions in the attachment – Recommended Fields. Among the Recommended Fields the following are the default fields, i.e. those which the parties will be expected to use as a minimum standard unless otherwise agreed or ordered:

- Document ID
- Date
- Document type
- Author/ Author organisation
- Addressee/ Addressee organisation
- Title.

Recommended Fields

Fields that are identified as default fields are those that ought to be used as a minimum standard and which, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, may be mandated by Court order in a given case.

Field	Data type and length	Notes
Document id (Default field 1)	Text and Numbers (if appropriate) Length - depending on field structure	Each document should be uniquely identified. The field may be broken into different components such as First Page and Last Page providing the parties agree. The field or fields might comprise a four-part number in form AAA.NNN.NNN.NNNN where "AAA" represents alphabetic shorthand for the party name. The other three sets of numbers could be used to suit the convenience of the parties. It may be useful if the first set is used to refer to an archive box number, the second to the number of the folder within the box, and the third to the page number. Rules for the numbering hierarchy can be agreed prior to discovery and the above is to be used as a guide not the definitive form. The parties should consider whether each page should be individually numbered or agree on some other satisfactory arrangement. If agreement is not reached then the parties should seek the Court's direction. If the parties agree not to number each page, consideration should be given to an additional field recording the number of pages in each document. Attachments to documents can be separately listed and numbered. Attachments can be numbered sequentially following the host document. For example, a host document may be numbered XXX.001.001.0001 and its attachments would be numbered as XXX.001.001.0002, XXX.001.001.0003 and XXX.001.001.0004. If imaging is to be used the parties can agree to any additional information about document identification. It is recommended that the document id match the image file name i.e. where the document id is AAA.NNN.NNN.NNNN then the image file name should be AAA.NNN.NNN.NNNN.tiff
Attachments	Text & Number, Length - depending on the number of attachments	Contains first and last pages of each document physically attached to a discovered document. Does not include documents that are only referred to in a discovered document. Each attachment should be listed separately, with its own discovery number and details. Multiple entries to be separated by commas.
Host Document Number	Text and Number, Length depending on the document id. structure	Contains First Page and - if agreed - Last Page of the host document to which an attachment is attached. Should never be multiple entries in this field, as each attachment should only ever have one host document.
Document Group	Text, 3	HWA Host with attachment HNA Host no attachment ATT Attachment This field may be required if parties agree to swap image files.

Date (Default field 2)	Date, 11	Date can be inserted as: DD/MMM/YYYY for example 05/Sep/1996 DD = Day MMM = Month YYYY = Year Undated documents: = Documents with no discernible date should be coded to a standard agreed between the parties which the parties will recognise as "undated." For example, the date field may be left blank. (Where this option is selected the parties may choose to enter the word "undated" in an additional text field.) Alternatively, an agreed date format such as 01/Jan/1801 should be used. It is important to note that databases that use a Date Type format may not accept text such as 'Undated' or dates that include '00' in the field. If there is no way of ascertaining the date of the document* Documents with only the month and year (e.g. August 1997) can be coded with the first day of the month, the month and the year (e.g. 01/Aug/1997) and a 'Yes' an entry should be made in the next field - "Estimated Date". field. Documents with the day and month but no year are considered undated. . For example a document dated 04/Apr will should be coded as "undated." as the year cannot be identified. Documents with just the year (e.g. 1997) should be coded with the first day of January (e.g. 01/Jan/1997) and a 'Yes' entry should be made in the 'Estimated Date' field. *If there is no way of ascertaining the date of the document, then the parties may agree upon what naming convention to use, for example, "Undated", or 00/00/0000, however, it should be noted that some database formats may not recognise these codes.
Document type (Default field 3)	Text, 254	This field is completed using commonly received document types e.g. letter, memo, deed. Parties should endeavour to create a list of agreed document types prior to discovery. If the document has been faxed, this field should include "facsimile". If a group of documents is being discovered as a bundle, this field should be completed as "Bundle of document type".
Privilege	Text, 6	This identifies whether a claim of privilege is made over the document. The permissible entries in this field are "YES", "NO" and "PART". If this field is completed with "YES" or "PART", the basis of privilege field must also be completed.
Basis of Privilege	Text, 50 (or combination of text and numbers)	Identifies basis of privilege claim. Parties should agree how they will identify privilege claims. One possibility is to set out here the basis of the claim that the document is privileged eg, the section or sections of the Evidence Act.
Status	Text, 10	"Copy" or 'Original' or "Fax". "Fax" should be used for a document that is either the original facsimile document (i.e. the document sent by the sender) or an original facsimile copy produced by the recipient's facsimile machine.

Author (Default field 4)	Text, 254 or as appropriate	Person or persons who wrote the document. To be completed using information on the face of the document. Last name First initial only eg. "Smith B". If more than one author enter as "Brown J; Jones J, ..." etc. If more than one addressee for one company, enter as "Brown J; Jones J;..." etc. Other ways of addressing multiple values can be agreed between the parties.
Author Organisation (Default field 4)	Text, 254 or as appropriate	Organisation from which the document emanated. To be completed from information on the face of the document. Multiple entries to be separated by commas. Parties should agree on standard spellings or abbreviations for organisations. Other ways of addressing multiple values can be agreed between the parties.
Addressee (Default field 5)	Text, 254 or as appropriate	Person or persons to whom the document is addressed. Includes persons to whom copies are circulated. To be completed from information on the face of the document. Last name First initial only eg. "Smith B". Multiple entries to be separated by commas. Other ways of addressing multiple values can be agreed between the parties.
Addressee Organisation (Default field 5)	Text, 254 or as appropriate	Organisation receiving the document. To be completed from information on the face of the document. Multiple entries to be separated by commas. Parties should agree on standard spellings or abbreviations for organisations. Other ways of addressing multiple values can be agreed between the parties.
