Her Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Regulation under the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999.

JOHN ROBERTSON, M.L.C.,
Minister for Corrective Services

Explanatory note

The object of this Regulation is to establish a new designation for inmates who are believed to constitute an extreme danger to other people or to good order and security and who may engage in, or incite others to engage in, activities that constitute a serious threat to the peace, order or good government of the State or any other place. These inmates will be known as extreme high risk restricted inmates and will be subject to a stricter security and management regime than other inmates.

The Regulation provides as follows:

- (a) extreme high risk restricted inmates will generally be allowed one visit only each week, and visitors may be required to undergo a criminal record check and be pre-approved by the Commissioner of Corrective Services (the Commissioner),
- (b) visits to extreme high risk restricted inmates will be non-contact visits and must be conducted in English or another approved language with an interpreter present,
- (c) all letters and parcels to and from extreme high risk restricted inmates will be opened and read, other than correspondence with exempt bodies (such as the Ombudsman) and Australian legal practitioners in certain circumstances,
- (d) all correspondence from extreme high risk restricted inmates must be written in English or another approved language and may be translated,
- (e) all telephone calls by extreme high risk restricted inmates must be conducted in English or another approved language,

Explanatory note

- (g) extreme high risk restricted inmates will not have access to the Official Visitor at the correctional centre in which they are held (as is currently the case for Category AA male inmates and Category 5 female inmates),
- (h) reviews of directions under which extreme high risk restricted inmates are held in segregated or protective custody are to be heard by the Chairperson of the Serious Offenders Review Council alone (rather than the full Council, as is the case for other inmates),
- (i) extreme high risk restricted inmates will be deemed as serious offenders for the purposes of the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999 and the regulations made under that Act.

The Regulation also:

- (a) provides that the Serious Offenders Review Council will not be required to disclose in the records of the Council's proceedings any information the disclosure of which may prejudice national security, and

- (c) makes further provision with respect to letters and parcels sent to or by certain categories of inmates, and
- (d) makes other consequential and minor amendments.

This Regulation is made under the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999, including sections 3 (1) (the definition of serious offender), 79, 197A and 271 (the general regulation-making power).
