Composite sample means a sample that combines 5 discrete sub-samples into a single sample for the purpose of analysis.

Consumer means a person who applies, causes, or permits the application to land of electric arc furnace slag within the definitions of “application to land” in accordance with the Act. The consumer may be the landholder responsible for the land to which electric arc furnace slag is applied. Where a person responsible for transporting the electric arc furnace slag to the land application site is also the party applying the electric arc furnace slag, this person must also meet the responsibilities of the consumer.

Electric arc furnace slag is the waste sourced from steels produced by the Electric Arc Furnace steelmaking process, and is formed after the molten solution of silicates and oxides cools and solidifies. Electric arc furnace slag does not include any bag house dust or air pollution control residues.

Generator means a person who generates, supplies, causes, or permits the supply of electric arc furnace slag to a processor or consumer. The generator may also be the processor.

NA means not applicable.

Once-off sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted only once on a batch, truckload or stockpile of electric arc furnace slag that is not repeated, reproduced and does not form part of a continuous process.

Processor means a person who processes, mixes, blends, or otherwise incorporates electric arc furnace slag into a material for supply to a consumer.

Routine sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted on the electric arc furnace slag on an ongoing and regular basis.

Relevant waste means electric arc furnace slag that meets the requirements of Section 7.

It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The EPA may grant specific exemptions in certain circumstances in recognition of intellectual property rights or where it is necessary to impose specific conditions on the use or application of a waste.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A) or water (s120), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a 'transaction' is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment, human health or agriculture, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment, human health or agriculture will not be harmed.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert engineering or technical advice.

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation and the responsible person will be required to comply with the normal regulatory provisions.

I, Joe Woodward delegate of the EPA, grant this exemption under clauses 51 and 51A of the Protection of the Environment (Waste) Regulation 2005.

JOE WOODWARD
Deputy Director General
Environment Protection and Regulation Group

Date: 3 March 2010

(By delegation made under section 21 of the Protection of Environment Administration Act 1991)

Notes

The goal of the general exemption is to facilitate the resource recovery of fit for purpose organic outputs by minimising the amount of physical and chemical contaminants.

Trials will be conducted, completed and reported prior to 31 December 2012 that will examine the environmental and human health impacts of contaminants in the organic outputs.

The EPA intends to extend this general exemption for agricultural uses beyond 30 June 2013. The nature of the extended general exemption for broad acre agricultural use, non-contact agricultural use and plantation forestry use will be determined taking into account:

- trials that are to be conducted in collaboration with the processors of mixed waste,
- the goal of the general exemption,
- the environmental, agricultural and human health impacts of the use of organic outputs,
- the technological capabilities of AWT facilities including the adequacy of pre-sorting processes, and
- community acceptance of the use of organic outputs.

The EPA may amend or revoke this exemption at any time if problems with the higher levels of physical contaminants arise during the transitional period.

It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant laws. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A of the Act) or water (s120 of the Act), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42 of the Regulation), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a transaction is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment and to human health, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment or human health will not be harmed.

It should be noted that other contaminants may be present in the relevant waste that can potentially cause harm. Application rates may need to be lower than those listed in the exemption depending on local circumstances and should be determined as appropriate to those circumstances prior to application. Plants may display symptoms of toxicity, and/or reductions in yield may occur at values below the maximum concentration limits specified in this exemption.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert advice from a certified practicing soil scientist (the Australian Society of Soil Science maintains a CPSS database at <http://www.asssi.asn.au/cpss/accredlist.php>).

Application at the maximum rates allowed in this exemption can add physical contaminants to land as follows:

Glass, metal and rigid plastics > 2 mm	7 tonnes per hectare for mine sites until 31 December 2011 5.6 tonnes per hectare for mine sites until 30 June 2013 3.5 tonnes per hectare for mine sites from 1 July 2013
	1.25 tonnes per hectare for plantation forestry use and non-contact agricultural use until 31 December 2011 0.75 tonnes per hectare for plantation forestry use and non-contact agricultural use until 30 June 2013
	0.25 tonnes per hectare for broad acre agricultural use until 31 December 2011 0.15 tonnes per hectare for broad acre agricultural use until 30 June 2013
Plastics – light, flexible or film > 5 mm	0.7 tonnes per hectare for mine sites until 31 December 2011 0.56 tonnes per hectare for mine sites until 30 June 2013 0.35 tonnes per hectare for mine sites from 1 July 2013
	0.125 tonnes per hectare for plantation forestry use and non-contact agricultural use until 31 December 2011 0.1 tonnes per hectare for plantation forestry use and non-contact agricultural use until 30 June 2013
	0.025 tonnes per hectare for broad acre agricultural use until 31 December 2011 0.02 tonnes per hectare for broad acre agricultural use until 30 June 2013

Physical contaminants may also be present in substantial quantities below 2 mm (for glass, metal and rigid plastics) and 5 mm (for Plastics – light, flexible or film).

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act, i.e. a landfill. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act. While not needing an exemption for use on landfills, organic outputs approval for use as cover in landfills can be sought under the conditions of the facility's Environment Protection Licence.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land and meets any other legal requirements.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation. If the responsible person fails to comply with the conditions of the Notice of Exemption he or she will not be exempt from the provisions to which this Notice of Exemption applies.

Notes

The EPA may amend or revoke this exemption at any time. It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The EPA may grant specific exemptions in certain circumstances in recognition of intellectual property rights or where it is necessary to impose specific conditions on the use or application of a waste.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A) or water (s120), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a 'transaction' is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment, human health or agriculture, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment, human health or agriculture will not be harmed.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert engineering or technical advice.

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation and the responsible person will be required to comply with the normal regulatory provisions.

Notes

The EPA may amend or revoke this exemption at any time. It is the responsibility of the generator, processor and consumer to ensure that they comply with all relevant requirements of the most current exemption. The current version of an exemption will be available on the EPA website: www.environment.nsw.gov.au

In gazetting this general exemption, the EPA is exempting the relevant waste from the specific requirements of the Act and Regulations as stated in this exemption. The EPA is not in any way endorsing the use of this substance or guaranteeing that the substance will confer benefit.

The EPA may grant specific exemptions in certain circumstances in recognition of intellectual property rights or where it is necessary to impose specific conditions on the use or application of a waste.

The use of exempted material remains subject to other relevant environmental regulations within the Act and Regulations. For example, a person who pollutes land (s142A) or water (s120), or does not meet the special requirements for asbestos waste (clause 42), regardless of having an exemption, is guilty of an offence and subject to prosecution.

For the purposes of arrangements between a generator, a processor and a consumer, a 'transaction' is taken to mean the contractual agreement between the two parties which specifies the exchange of waste material from one party to another. A 'statement of compliance' must be in writing and be provided with each transaction.

The conditions set out in this exemption are designed to minimise the risk of potential harm to the environment, human health or agriculture, however, neither this exemption nor these conditions guarantee that the environment, human health or agriculture will not be harmed.

The consumer should assess whether or not the exempted material is fit for the purpose the material is proposed to be used and whether this use will cause harm. The consumer may need to seek expert engineering or technical advice.

This exemption does not apply to any material received at a premises that is required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act. This exemption does not remove the need for a site at which processing occurs to be licensed, if required under Schedule 1 of the Act.

This exemption does not alter the requirements of any other relevant legislation that must be met in utilising this material, including for example, the need to prepare a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS).

Regardless of any exemption provided by the EPA, the person who causes or permits the application of the substance to land must ensure that the action is lawful and consistent with the development consent requirements of the land.

All records required to be kept under this exemption must be made available to authorised officers of the EPA upon request.

Failure to comply with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption may constitute an offence under clause 51 of the Regulation and the responsible person will be required to comply with the normal regulatory provisions.

However, this Notice of Exemption does not exempt the responsible person from the provisions specified in Column 2 where the relevant waste is received at premises that are, despite this exemption, required to be licensed for waste disposal (application to land) activities under the provisions of the Act.
 - 5.2. Where a responsible person complies with the conditions of this Notice of Exemption, the activity referred to in Schedule 1 from which that person is exempt is taken to be a non-scheduled activity for the purposes of the Act.

Definitions

6. In this Notice of Exemption:

Characterisation means sampling and testing that must be conducted on the steel furnace slag for the range of chemicals and other attributes listed in Column 1 of Table 2.

Composite sample means a sample that combines 5 discrete sub-samples into a single sample for the purpose of analysis.

Consumer means a person who applies, causes, or permits the application to land of steel furnace slag within the definitions of “application to land” in accordance with the Act. The consumer may be the landholder responsible for the land to which steel furnace slag is applied. Where a person responsible for transporting the steel furnace slag to the land application site is also the party applying the steel furnace slag, this person must also meet the responsibilities of the consumer.

Generator means a person who generates, supplies, causes, or permits the supply of steel furnace slag to a processor or consumer. The generator may also be the processor.

NA means not applicable.

Once-off sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted only once on a batch, truckload or stockpile of steel furnace slag that is not repeated, reproduced and does not form part of a continuous process.

Processor means a person who processes, mixes, blends, or otherwise incorporates steel furnace slag into a material for supply to a consumer.

Relevant waste means the steel furnace slag that meets the requirements of Section 7.

Routine sampling means sampling and testing that must be conducted on the steel furnace slag on an ongoing and regular basis.

Steel furnace slag is a waste formed from the reaction of molten iron, scrap steel and fluxes in a Basic Oxygen Steel (BOS) furnace during the manufacture of steel. Steel furnace slag does not include any bag house dust or air pollution control residues.
