Schedule C – State Insurance Regulatory Authority procedures for the provision of hearing aids

Workers in NSW with hearing loss arising out of the course of employment where employment was the main contributing factor can request hearing aids as a medical expense under section 60 of the Act. The procedures for obtaining them are outlined below.

Overview

Medical support for the provision of hearing aids

The nominated treating doctor (NTD) is to make a referral to an ENT specialist who has undertaken training in the relevant chapters of the WorkCover Guides for the Evaluation of Person Impairment and is listed on the State Insurance Regulatory Authority website as a trained assessor of permanent impairment (hearing) for assessment.

For the purposes of prescribing hearing aids, the ENT specialist will determine:

- the level of binaural hearing loss, and
- the proportion of the hearing loss that is attributable to workplace noise, and
- whether the worker would benefit from provision of hearing aids.

The ENT specialist may refer the worker to an Authority approved hearing service provider for the purposes of a hearing needs assessment and quote for the supply and fitting of hearing aid/s. If the ENT specialist is an Authority approved hearing service provider they may complete the hearing needs assessment and quote.

Selection of hearing aid/s and quote

The Authority’s approved hearing service provider is to complete a hearing needs assessment, select a suitable aid and prepare a quote for the supply and fitting of the aid/s, in accordance with the Authority’s fees and costs set out in Schedule A. The assessment and quote are submitted to the insurer.

A quote must be forwarded to the insurer and approval must be provided by the insurer prior to the supply and fitting of the hearing aid/s. The quote must include:

- (a) the worker’s contact details,
- (b) a full description of the hearing aid/s to a maximum of $2,500.00 per hearing aid,

- (c) an outline of why the hearing aid is reasonably necessary for the injured worker in overcoming the effect of the hearing impairment under section 60 of the Act including clinical rationale for the selected hearing aid,
- (d) the audiogram the recommendations are based upon,
- (e) details of the person who provided the assessment and quote,
- (f) hearing service provider details including ABN and the Authority approval number
- (g) service fees in accordance with the Workers Compensation (Hearing Aids Fees) Order 2015 (No 2), including handling and fitting fee.

Insurer approval

The insurer will make a decision on whether to approve the supply and fitting and of the hearing aid/s. In making the decision, the insurer must consider the reported hearing needs of the worker and the quoted fees and costs.

Supply and fitting of hearing aid/s

Once approved, the worker is supplied and fitted with the recommended hearing aid/s for up to a 30-day trial. If the trial is successful, the hearing service provider advises the insurer and invoices for the supply and fitting of the hearing aid/s, in accordance with the approved quote. If the trial is unsuccessful, the provider advises the insurer and invoices for the hearing needs assessment only.

Review of hearing aid

After 12 months of use, the worker may visit the hearing service provider for a review of their hearing aid. If the worker requires ongoing use of their hearing aid, the hearing service provider will provide 12 months supply of batteries. Following this, additional batteries and minor maintenance which are not covered by the manufacturer's warranty can be obtained from any Authority approved hearing service provider as required to the maximum fee set in Schedule A. The worker is required to sign and date the invoice for the supply of batteries or maintenance.

Request for replacement hearing aid

Requests for replacement hearing aids where:

- the hearing aid/s is/are lost or damaged and the loss or damage is not covered by warranty or other insurance, or
- the worker's hearing loss further deteriorates and the worker can no longer communicate effectively using the current hearing aid/s must be supported by the worker's regular general practitioner. These requests can be made using the Declaration form – request for replacement hearing aid found on WorkCover's website.

THREATENED SPECIES CONSERVATION ACT 1995

FINAL DETERMINATION

The Scientific Committee, established by the Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995 (the Act), has made a Final Determination under section 23 of the Act to list the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion as an ENDANGERED ECOLOGICAL COMMUNITY in Part 3 of Schedule 1 of the Act.

This determination contains the following information:

- Parts 1 & 2: Section 4 of the Act defines an ecological community as “an assemblage of species occupying a particular area”. These features of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion are described in Parts 1 and 2 of this Determination, respectively.
- Part 3: Part 3 of this Determination describes the eligibility for listing of this ecological community in Part 3 of Schedule 1 of the Act according to criteria as prescribed by the Threatened Species Conservation Regulation 2010.
- Part 4: Part 4 of this Determination provides additional information intended to aid recognition of this community in the field.

Part 1. Assemblage of species

- 1.1 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion, hereafter referred to as Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands, is characterised by the assemblage of species listed below.

Alternanthera denticulata	Brachyscome goniocarpa
Calandrinia pumila	Centipeda minima subsp. minima
Cyperus gunnii subsp. gunnii	Eleocharis pusilla
Epaltes australis	Eragrostis elongata
Glossostigma diandrum	Goodenia gracilis
Gratiola pedunculata	Hydrocotyle tripartita
Isoetes muelleri	Juncus subsecundus
Marsilea hirsuta	Mitrasacme paludosa
Murdannia graminea	Myriophyllum implicatum
Myriophyllum simulans	Nymphoides crenata
Nymphoides geminata	Peplidium foecundum
Pseudoraphis spinescens	Ranunculus sessiliflorus var. pilulifer
Wahlenbergia tumidifruca

- 1.2 The total species list of the community across all occurrences is known to be considerably larger than that given above. Due to variation across the range of the community, not all of the above species are present at every site and many sites may also contain species not listed above.

Characteristic species may be abundant or rare and comprise only a subset of the complete list of species recorded in known examples of the community. Some characteristic species show a high fidelity (are relatively restricted) to the community, but may also occur in other communities, while others are more typically found in a range of communities.

The number and identity of species recorded at a site is a function of sampling scale and effort. In general, the number of species recorded is likely to increase with the size of the site and there is a greater possibility of recording species that are rare in the landscape.

Species presence and relative abundance (dominance) will vary from site to site as a function of environmental factors such as soil properties (chemical composition, texture, depth, drainage), topography, climate, and through time as a function of disturbance (e.g. fire, logging, grazing) and weather (e.g. flooding, drought, extreme heat or cold).

At any one time, above ground individuals of some species may be absent, but the species may be represented below ground in the soil seed bank or as dormant structures such as bulbs, corms, rhizomes, rootstocks or lignotubers.

The species listed above are vascular plants, however the community also includes micro-organisms, fungi, cryptogamic plants and vertebrate and invertebrate fauna. These components of the community are less well documented.

Part 2. Particular area occupied by the ecological community

- 2.1 The assemblage of species listed in Part 1.1 above which characterises the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands occurs within the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion. This Bioregion is defined by SEWPaC (2012) Interim Biogeographic Regionalisation for Australia, Version 7. Department of Sustainability, Environment, Water, Population and Communities. <http://www.environment.gov.au/parks/nrs/science/bioregion-framework/ibra/maps.html>

- 2.2 It is the intent of the Scientific Committee that all occurrences of the ecological community (both recorded and as yet unrecorded, and independent of their condition) that occur within this bioregion be covered by this Determination.

Part 3. Eligibility for listing

3.1 Reasons for determining eligibility for listing

- 3.1.1 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands have a highly restricted geographic distribution. The extent of occurrence of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands is estimated to be 2342 km², based on a minimum convex polygon enclosing all known occurrences of the community, the method of assessment recommended by IUCN (2013). The estimated area of occupancy (AOO) is 552 km², which is equivalent to 138 2 x 2 km grid cells, the spatial scale recommended for assessing AOO by IUCN (2013). Approximately one third of the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands occur within conservation reserves, namely the Pilliga National Park and the Pilliga State Conservation Area (Bell et al. 2012). Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands are also likely to occur in the Pilliga West State Conservation Area (J.T. Hunter in litt. November 2013).
- 3.1.2 Major threats to Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands include altered hydrology, soil disturbance from feral pigs and recreational vehicles, clearing of native vegetation and degradation caused by grazing and weed invasion (M. Brock in litt. August 2012; P. Christie in litt. June 2012; P. Clarke in litt. March 2012; D. Maberley in litt. April 2012).
- 3.1.3 Alteration of water regimes in the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands has occurred intentionally by draining or damming and unintentionally through sedimentation from catchment erosion (Bell et al. 2012). Temporary wetland habitats are particularly vulnerable to human activities due to their unique physical and ecological characteristics and their value is frequently overlooked because of their small size and seasonal occurrence (Schwartz and Jenkins 2000). In general, wetlands that depend primarily on precipitation for water input are more vulnerable to changes in climate and weather patterns (Brooks 2005). Under climate change predictions of more episodic precipitation and increased evapotranspiration, temporary wetlands may dry earlier in the year and remain dry for longer periods (Zacharias et al. 2007). These changes could adversely affect the successful reproduction of wetland dependent organisms and isolate the remaining productive pools (Brooks 2005). 'Alteration to the natural flow regimes of rivers and streams and their floodplains and wetlands' and 'Anthropogenic Climate Change' are listed as Key Threatening Processes under the Act.
- 3.1.4 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands are also threatened by physical disturbance associated with clearing of native vegetation, feral pig invasion and recreational vehicle use (D. Maberley in litt. April 2012; Bell et al. 2012). For example, evidence of digging by feral pigs was observed in almost all of the wetlands studied by Bell et al. (2012). Soil disturbance from feral pigs and recreational vehicles risks disruption of the seed bank via deeper burial of seeds and encouragement of weeds (Bell et al. 2012). During vegetation surveys of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands, Bell et al. (2012) found that 11% of the taxa sampled were exotic. In addition, Benson et al. (2010) estimate that approximately 60% of the woody cover of native vegetation in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion has been cleared to support agricultural production. 'Clearing of native vegetation' and 'Predation, habitat degradation, competition and disease transmission by Feral Pigs, Sus scrofa Linnaeus 1758' are listed as Key Threatening Processes under the Act.

3.2 Criteria for listing

Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion is eligible to be listed as an Endangered Ecological Community in accordance with section 12 of the Act as, in the opinion of the Scientific Committee, it is facing a very high risk of extinction in New South Wales in the near future, as determined in accordance with the following criteria as prescribed by the Threatened Species Conservation Regulation 2010:

Clause 18 Restricted geographic distribution of the ecological community

The ecological community's geographic distribution is estimated or inferred to be:

- (b) highly restricted,

and the nature of its distribution makes it likely that the action of a threatening process could cause it to decline or degrade in extent or ecological function over a time span appropriate to the life cycle and habitat characteristics of the ecological community's component species.

Clause 19 Reduction in ecological function of the ecological community

The ecological community has undergone, is observed, estimated, inferred or reasonably suspected to have undergone or is likely to undergo within a time span appropriate to the life cycle and habitat characteristics of its component species:

- (b) a large reduction in ecological function,

as indicated by any of the following:

- (e) change in species composition,
(f) disruption of ecological processes,

- (g) invasion and establishment of exotic species,
- (h) degradation of habitat.

Part 4. Additional information about the ecological community

The following information is additional to that required to meet the definition of an ecological community under the Act, but is provided to assist in the recognition of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands in the field. Given natural variability, along with disturbance history, Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands may sometimes occur outside the typical range of variation in the features described below.

- 4.1 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands generally occur on the Pilliga outwash within a mosaic of woodlands and shrublands, or previously wooded areas, largely dominated by Allocasuarina luehmannii, Eucalyptus chloroclada, Eucalyptus pilligaensis, Eucalyptus sideroxylon and Melaleuca densispicata (Benson et al. 2010; Hunter 2010).
- 4.2 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands includes Communities 1, 2 and 3 of Bell et al. (2012). It is equivalent to ID416 of Benson et al. (2010) described as “tank gilgai” that form on cracking, clay, alluvial soils that can be over one hectare in size forming a chain of ponds (D. Maberley in litt. April 2012). These wetlands are morphologically distinct from the more common lattice gilgai depressions on grey cracking clays to the north and northwest of Pilliga National Park and Pilliga State Conservation Area (Bell et al. 2012). Maberley (in litt. April 2012) notes that the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands are floristically different from ephemeral wetlands on clayey alluvial plains (for example Shallow freshwater wetland sedgeland in depressions on floodplains (ID53 of Benson et al. 2010) and other wetlands identified in the Pilliga forests (Sedgeland fen wetland of spring-fed or runoff-fed creeks (ID361), Riparian sedgeland rushland wetland of the Pilliga to Goonoo sandstone forests (ID400) and Swamp Paper-bark very tall shrubland wetland on sodic soils in the Pilliga Scrub (ID410) (Benson et al. 2010)). Benson et al. (2010) suggest the Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands “grades into Buloke woodland (ID411) and Narrow-leaved Ironbark (ID398) in the Pilliga forests and into Brigalow forest (ID35) on “normal” gilgai landscapes.”
- 4.3 The vegetation of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands differs from more southern ephemeral wetlands (e.g. in the Riverina) that are mainly lignum (Duma florulenta), Black Box (Eucalyptus largiflorens), River Red Gum (Eucalyptus camaldulensis) or Cane Grass (Eragrostis australasica) dominated (CSU 2011). The Mulga Lands Bioregion ephemeral wetlands to the west have different plant communities and hydrology (M. Casanova in litt. June 2012). Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands also differ from the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 listing of Seasonal Herbaceous Wetlands (Freshwater) of the Temperate Lowland Plains because they occur in forested lands or previously wooded areas rather than in grasslands (M. Casanova in litt. June 2012).
- 4.4 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands support a number of species at or near the limits of their distribution. Species characteristic of inland wetlands which reach their eastern distributional limit in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion and are characteristic of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands include: Nymphoides crenata, Glossostigma diandrum, Calandrinia pumila, Peplidium foecundum, Wahlenbergia tumidifruca, Brachyscome goniocarpa and Ranunculus sessiliflorus var. pilulifer. Species characteristic of the eastern ranges which reach their western distributional limit in the Brigalow Belt South Bioregion and are characteristic of Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands include: Gratiola pedunculata, Nymphoides geminata, Isoetes muelleri, Hydrocotyle tripartita, Mitrasacme paludosa and Murdannia graminea.
- 4.5 Pilliga Outwash Ephemeral Wetlands support the following threatened plant species:
 - Eriocaulon australasicum* (Endangered)
 - Lepidium monoplocoides* (Endangered)
 - Myriophyllum implicatum* (Critically Endangered)
