I, Anthony John Roberts MP, Minister for Industry, Resources and Energy, in pursuance of sections 119(1)(b) and 122(2) of the Electricity Supply Act 1995 and being satisfied that each electricity load to which this Order applies is used in connection with an industry or activity that is both emissions intensive and trade exposed and that the exemptions are generally consistent with the objects of Part 9 of the Electricity Supply Act 1995, make the following Order.

Dated this 12th day of December 2016.

ANTHONY JOHN ROBERTS, MP
Minister for Industry, Resources and Energy

Explanatory note

NSW SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Final Determination

The Scientific Committee, established by the Threatened Species Conservation Act 1995 (the Act), has made a Final Determination under Section 23 of the Act to list Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the Sydney Basin and South Eastern Highlands Bioregions as a CRITICALLY ENDANGERED ECOLOGICAL COMMUNITY in Part 2 of Schedule 1A of the Act and, as a consequence, to omit reference to the Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the Sydney Basin Bioregion from Part 3 of Schedule 1 (Endangered Ecological Communities) of the Act.

This determination contains the following information:

- Parts 1 & 2: Section 4 of the Act defines an ecological community as “an assemblage of species occupying a particular area”. These features of Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the Sydney Basin and South Eastern Highlands bioregions are described in Parts 1 and 2 of this Determination, respectively.
- Part 3: Part 3 of this Determination describes the eligibility for listing of this ecological community in Part 2 of Schedule 1A of the Act according to criteria as prescribed by the Threatened Species Conservation Regulation 2010:
- Part 4: Part 4 of this Determination provides additional information intended to aid recognition of this community in the field.

Part 1. Assemblage of species

- 1.1 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the Sydney Basin and South Eastern Highlands Bioregions, hereafter referred to as the Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest, is characterised by the assemblage of species listed below.

- 1.2 The total species list of the community across all occurrences is likely to be considerably larger than that given above. Due to variation across the range of the community, not all of the above species are present at every site and many sites may also contain species not listed above.

Characteristic species may be abundant or rare and comprise only a subset of the complete list of species recorded in known examples of the community. Some characteristic species show a high fidelity (are relatively restricted) to the community, but may also occur in other communities, while others are more typically found in a range of communities.

The number and identity of species recorded at a site is a function of sampling scale and effort. In general, the number of species recorded is likely to increase with the size of the site and there is a greater possibility of recording species that are rare in the landscape.

Species presence and relative abundance (dominance) will vary from site to site as a function of environmental factors such as soil properties (chemical composition, texture, depth, drainage), topography, climate, and through time as a function of disturbance (e.g. fire, logging, grazing) and weather (e.g. flooding, drought, extreme heat or cold).

At any one time, above ground individuals of some species may be absent, but the species may be represented below ground in the soil seed bank or as dormant structures such as bulbs, corms, rhizomes, rootstocks or lignotubers.

The species listed above are vascular plants, however the community also includes micro-organisms, fungi and cryptogamic plants as well as vertebrate and invertebrate fauna. These components of the community are less well documented.

Part 2. Particular area occupied by the ecological community

- 2.1 The assemblage of species listed in Part 1.1 above which characterises the Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest occurs within the Sydney Basin and South East Highlands Bioregions. These Bioregions are defined by SEWPaC (2012) Interim Biogeographic Regionalisation for Australia, Version 7. Department of Sustainability, Environment, Water, Population and Communities.
<http://www.environment.gov.au/parks/nrs/science/bioregion-framework/ibra/maps.html>
- 2.2 It is the intent of the Scientific Committee that all occurrences of the ecological community (both recorded and as yet unrecorded, and independent of their condition) that occur within these bioregions be covered by this Determination.

Part 3. Eligibility for listing

3.1 Reasons for determining eligibility for listing

- 3.1.1 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest was listed as an Endangered Ecological Community under the Act in 2001 (NSW Scientific Committee 2011). Since this original listing new data have become available and the Scientific Committee has undertaken a review of the conservation status of the ecological community to inform the current listing status under the Act.
- 3.1.2 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest has undergone a very large reduction in geographic distribution. Tozer et al. (2010) estimated that Southern Highlands Basalt Forest (which includes Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest) has undergone a reduction of 65–80% from its estimated pre-European distribution. Subsequent analysis of remnant vegetation attributable to Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest suggests that the pre-European distribution of the ecological community was approximately 67 km², of which only 13.9 km² remains (C. Simpson in litt. February 2016). The remaining Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest comprises approximately 300 patches, primarily isolated in cleared land and with a mean patch size of 0.04 km² (Tozer et al. 2010).
- 3.1.3 The geographic distribution of Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is highly restricted. The extent of occurrence is 1,204 km², based on a minimum convex polygon enclosing all mapped occurrences of the community, the method of assessment recommended by IUCN (2014). The area of occupancy (AOO) of Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is 352 km², based on occupancy of 2 x 2 km grid cells, the scale recommended for AOO by IUCN (2014).
- 3.1.4 Major threats to Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest include the impacts of farming, grazing and residential development, inappropriate fire regimes, invasion by weeds and feral animals and climate change (TSSC 2011). Much of the clearing of this community occurred in the hundred years after the opening of the Southern Railway Line in the Southern Highlands in 1867. Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest was felled for timber and to facilitate the exploitation of the fertile basalt soils for grazing and other farming practices. Future clearing is likely to be associated with rural-residential development. Much of the remaining forest occurs on private land and unfenced remnants are subject to the impacts of grazing by domestic stock, including selective herbivory, trampling, soil compaction, soil erosion, nutrient enrichment and weed invasion. Invasive species include Asparagus asparagoides (Bridal Creeper), Berberis vulgaris (Barberry), Genista spp (Broom), Hedera helix (English Ivy), Ilex aquifolium (English Holly), Ligustrum lucidum (Large-leaved Privet), Ligustrum. sinense (Small-leaved Privet), Lonicera japonica (Japanese Honeysuckle), Passiflora mollissima (Banana Passionfruit), Prunus laurocerasus (Cherry Laurel), Pyracantha spp. (Firethorn), Rubus anglocandicans, Rubus leightonii and Rubus ulmifolius (Blackberry) (TSSC 2011). ‘Clearing of native vegetation’ and ‘Loss and degradation of native plant and animal habitat by invasion of escaped garden plants, including aquatic plants’ are listed as Key Threatening Processes under the Act.
- 3.1.5 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is included within the Southern Escarpment Wet Sclerophyll Forest class of Keith (2004). Wet sclerophyll forests occur in areas receiving high rainfall and are characterised by high levels of fuel accumulation and fire regimes driven by the rarity of conditions under which low fuel moisture and high fire danger coincide. As a consequence, average fire-return intervals in Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest are likely to be in the range 50–100 years (Bradstock 2010). Sclerophyll species may be progressively replaced by mesic species in the long-term absence of fire, for example, in remnants isolated from other vegetation in agricultural land. Conversely, frequent burning may eliminate shrub species and promote a grass and forbdominated understorey (Keith 1996). Thus both inappropriately high frequency fires and inappropriately low frequency fires are threats to this ecological community. 'High frequency fire resulting in the disruption of life cycle processes in plants and animals and loss of vegetation structure and composition' is listed as a Key Threatening Process under the Act.

3.2 Criteria for listing

Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the Sydney Basin and South East Highlands Bioregions is eligible to be listed as a Critically Endangered Ecological Community in accordance with Section 12 of the Act as, in the opinion of the Scientific Committee, it is facing an extremely high risk of extinction in New South Wales in the immediate future, as determined in accordance with the following criteria as prescribed by the Threatened Species Conservation Regulation 2010:

Clause 17 Reduction in geographic distribution of the ecological community

The ecological community has undergone, is observed, estimated, inferred or reasonably suspected to have undergone or is likely to undergo within a time span appropriate to the life cycle and habitat characteristics of its component species:

- (a) a very large reduction in geographic distribution.

Part 4. Additional information about the ecological community

The following information is additional to that required to meet the definition of an ecological community under the Act, but is provided to assist in the recognition of Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the field. Given natural variability, along with disturbance history, Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest may sometimes occur outside the typical range of variation in the features described below.

- 4.1 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is restricted to moist, elevated areas on fertile soils associated with Tertiary volcanics on the Robertson Plateau and at Sassafras located at the northern end of the Morton Plateau. It is known to occur between 650 and 850 m a.s.l. where mean annual rainfall is in the range 1000–1,450 mm. Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is currently known to occur in Wingecarribee, Shoalhaven, Palerang and Wollongong local government areas but may occur elsewhere in the bioregions.
- 4.2 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is dominated by Eucalyptus species up to, or exceeding, 30 m in height with an open shrub layer and a moist herbaceous groundcover (Tozer et al. 2010). The community is characterised by a tall open-forest structure in its climax state, however its original distribution has been highly fragmented by clearing and some remnants now resemble open forest or woodland. The canopy composition is variable but usually dominated by one or more of the species Eucalyptus fastigata, E. cypellocarpa or E. radiata subsp. radiata. Other canopy species which may be locally common or dominant include E. piperita, E. elata, E. viminalis and E. obliqua (Tozer et al. 2010). A eucalypt canopy may be absent from previously cleared or otherwise highly disturbed stands. Acacia melanoxylon frequently forms a sub-canopy layer below the Eucalyptus spp. or may be the dominant species in heavily disturbed remnants. A sparse shrub layer is usually present but not highly diverse and may include Leucopogon lanceolatus var.

lanceolatus, Hedycarya angustifolia, Hymenanthera dentata, Pittosporum multiflorum and Coprosma quadrifida. The ground cover is typically dense and contains a diverse range of ferns, forbs and grasses including Lomandra longifolia, Pteridium esculentum, Viola hederacea, Dichondra spp., Microlaena stipoides, Poa labillardierei, Dianella caerulea, Hydrocotyle peduncularis, Poranthera microphylla, Echinopogon ovatus, Geranium potentilloides, Helichrysum scorpioides, Schelhammera undulata, Stellaria pungens, Veronica plebeia, Adiantum aethiopicum, Austrostipa rudis, Galium propinquum and Stellaria flaccida. Grasses such as P. labillardierei are often dominant in drier sites at the western end of the range but the understory becomes progressively more mesic with increasing rainfall to the east.

- 4.3 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest includes vegetation described under Map Unit 6k (Robertson Basalt Tall Forest) by Benson and Howell (1994) and Fisher et al. (1995). Tozer et al. (2010) combined Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest and Mount Gibraltar Forest (listed separately as an Endangered Ecological Community) in a single map unit (WSF p266; Southern Highlands Basalt Forest).
- 4.4 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest grades into High Range Sheltered Forest (WSF p66, Tozer et al. 2010) on soils of lower fertility. High Range Sheltered Forest is more common in areas receiving less than 1000 mm in annual rainfall on the tablelands and Great Dividing Range to the west of the Wingecarribee Plateau and differs from Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest in the more frequent occurrence of species such as Eucalyptus elata, Olearia viscidula, Acacia falciformis, Galium binifolium, E. viminalis, Lagenifera gracilis and E. dalrympleana subsp. dalrympleana. Species that occur more frequently in Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest than High Range Sheltered Forest include A. melanoxydon, Tylophora barbata, E. fastigata, Hibbertia scandens, Poa labillardierei var. labillardierei, Hardenbergia violacea, Schelhammera undulata, Stellaria flaccida, Asperula conferta and Smilax australis.
- 4.5 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest grades into Tableland Basalt Forest (GW p20, Tozer et al. 2010) with decreasing rainfall and average minimum temperature. Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest rarely occurs in areas receiving less than 1000 mm of annual rainfall while the converse is true for Tableland Basalt Forest. Species common in Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest but rare or absent from Tableland Basalt Forest include Tylophora barbata, Eustrephus latifolius, Hibbertia scandens, Stellaria flaccida, Schelhammera undulata, Eucalyptus cypellocarpa, Arrhenechthites mixta, Smilax australis, Hedycarya angustifolia, Doodia aspera and Eucalyptus piperita. Species such as Viola hederacea, Coprosma quadrifida, Lomandra longifolia, Hardenbergia violacea, Eucalyptus fastigata, Dianella longifolia, Dianella caerulea and Geranium potentilloides occur in both communities but occur more frequently in Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest. Species common in Tableland Basalt Forest but rare or absent from Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest include Cymbonotus lawsonianus, Acacia dealbata, Eucalyptus pauciflora, Plantago varia, Wahlenbergia luteola and Cynoglossum australe. Species such as Eucalyptus viminalis, Hydrocotyle laxiflora, Acaena novae-zelandiae and Viola betonicifolia occur in both communities but are more common in Tableland Basalt Forest.
- 4.6 Small areas of Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest may occur in Morton National Park in the vicinity of The Vines, however the community grades into temperate rainforest with decreasing elevation in this area (Tozer et al. 2010).
- 4.7 Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest is included within the Endangered ecological community listed under the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 as 'Upland Basalt Eucalypt Forests of the Sydney Basin Bioregion'. However the Commonwealth listing advice excludes some patches, here regarded as Robertson Basalt Tall Open-forest, on the basis of condition or structure thresholds (including patch size, ground cover and tree density).

Water Notices

STATE OWNED CORPORATIONS ACT 1989

Direction to the Board of WaterNSW under section 20P

Notice of Reasons for giving the direction

To ensure that Broken Hill's chronic water shortages are addressed, a long term water supply solution is required. The Menindee Lakes is a highly inefficient water storage. The Broken Hill community requires access to two per cent of the water volume lost to evaporation every year. The Menindee Lakes are also an insecure source of water, as was demonstrated recently by record low inflows to the Menindee Lakes system.

Extensive analysis has shown that the preferred long term option for the project is the construction of a 270km long pipeline running from the Murray River along the Silver City Highway road easement to Broken Hill. Low salinity raw water would be delivered to the existing Mica Street Water Treatment Plant in Broken Hill. This direction requires that the infrastructure is constructed and operational before current water supplies are exhausted.

It is my view that the threat to Broken Hill's water supply constitutes an exceptional circumstance and hence that it is necessary for me to give a direction in the public interest in accordance with section 20P of the State Owned Corporations Act 1989 to WaterNSW to undertake these works immediately. This direction will help ensure that the people of Broken Hill have an uninterrupted water supply in the long term. Without this direction Broken Hill's water supply cannot be reliably secured.

Minister for Lands and Water

STATUTORY AND OTHER OFFICES REMUNERATION TRIBUNAL
REPORT AND DETERMINATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 14(2) OF THE ACT
REPORT:

1. On 9 November 2016 the Statutory and Other Offices Remuneration Tribunal (the Tribunal) received a direction from the Premier, the Hon Mike Baird MP, to make a determination in respect of the remuneration payable to the offices of the:
 - Chief Commissioner of the Law Enforcement and Conduct Commission
 - Full-time Commissioner for Integrity of the Law Enforcement and Conduct Commission
 - Full-time Commissioner for Oversight of the Law Enforcement and Conduct Commission

2. The Premier advised that the Statutory and Other Office Remuneration Act 1975 (the SOOR Act) will be amended by Law Enforcement and Conduct Commission Bill 2016 (the LECC Bill) on assent to include these offices in Schedule 1. These are new positions and the Tribunal has not previously made determinations on the remuneration payable to these offices.

3. The Chief Commissioner is a full-time office and the two Commissioners may be full-time or part-time offices. The Chief Commissioner and any full-time Commissioner are entitled to be paid remuneration in accordance with the SOOR Act.

4. The establishment of the LECC is part of NSW Government's commitment to strengthen and improve the oversight of police complaints in NSW. The LECC will be a single, independent, accountable body exercising royal commission powers to detect, investigate, and expose serious misconduct within the NSW Police Force and the NSW Crime Commission. The LECC also independently monitors and reviews the investigation and complaints by the NSW Police Force and the NSW Crime Commission about the conduct of their officers. The LECC will work collaboratively with the NSW Police Force and the NSW Crime Commission to educate and promote prevention and elimination of officer misconduct, particularly through the identification of systematic issues that are likely to be conducive to the occurrence of officer misconduct and corruption.

5. These functions are currently undertaken by the Police Integrity Commission (PIC), the Ombudsman and the Inspector of the Crime Commission. The PIC and Inspector of the Crime Commission will be abolished and the Ombudsman's jurisdiction as it relates to police will be transferred to the LECC.
6. The functions of the LECC are outlined in Part 4 of the LECC Bill and include the following:
 - (a) the detection, investigation and exposure of conduct that is (or could be) serious misconduct or serious maladministration,
 - (b) the referral of misconduct matters relating to members of the NSW Police Force for police investigation and of misconduct matters relating to Crime Commission officers to the Crime Commission for Crime Commission investigation (unless the conduct concerned is (or could be) serious misconduct or serious maladministration and the Commission has decided to investigate the matter),
 - (c) the referral of misconduct matters for investigation or action by other appropriate authorities,
 - (d) the monitoring of the investigation or handling of misconduct matters referred by it to other authorities,
 - (e) working collaboratively with the NSW Police Force and Crime Commission with respect to educating Crime Commission officers and members of the NSW Police Force about officer misconduct and maladministration and supporting and promoting initiatives of those agencies directed at the prevention and elimination of officer misconduct and maladministration,
 - (f) assembling evidence and information that may be used in prosecuting criminal offences or dealing with disciplinary infringements and giving it to appropriate authorities,
 - (g) forming opinions and making recommendations in the exercise of its functions without making any findings of guilt about the commission of criminal offences (but which may be used as a ground for taking disciplinary proceedings),

- (h) exercising the functions that may be exercised by the Crime Commission under the Criminal Assets Recovery Act 1990 in connection with matters arising during or in the course of the Law Enforcement Conduct Commission's investigations under the proposed Act,
 - (i) inspecting records and reports to ensure the NSW Police Force and Crime Commission are complying with certain legislative requirements.
7. The LECC will exercise its functions independently of the Government and is not subject to the control or direction of the Minister. A Parliamentary Joint Committee has certain functions outlined in Part 10 of the LECC Bill to monitor and review the exercise by the LECC of its functions.
8. The appointment requirements as outlined in Section 18 of the LECC Bill require the Chief Commissioner to be a serving or retired judge of a superior court of record within Australia, and the two Commissioners to have special legal qualifications. This means the two Commissioners must be qualified to be appointed as a judge of a superior court of record. Under the Supreme Court Act 1970 a person is qualified for appointment as a judge if the person holds or has held a judicial office in Australia or is an Australian lawyer of at least seven year's standing.
9. The Chief Commissioner is required to:
- Provide for the independent detection, investigation and exposure of serious misconduct within the NSW Police Force and the Crime Commission

PRACTICE NOTE SC CL 3

SUPREME COURT COMMON LAW DIVISION – ADMINISTRATIVE AND INDUSTRIAL LAW LIST

Commencement

1. This Practice Note was issued on 8 December 2016 and commences on 8 December 2016.

Application

2. This Practice Note applies to proceedings in, or to be entered in, the Administrative and Industrial Law List (the List).

Introduction

3. The Court exercises statutory and supervisory jurisdiction by way of judicial review with respect to public bodies and officials and various tribunals either by way of appeal or by application. Uniform Civil Procedure Rules 2005 (UCPR) Part 59 applies to judicial review proceedings in this Court. The Court also exercises jurisdiction with respect to those matters which were formerly dealt with by the Industrial Court, which are included in the List.
4. The purpose of this Practice Note is to explain the operation of the List.

Proceedings that are to be allocated to the List

5. There are three categories of case that are dealt with in the List:
 - statutory appeals (where the jurisdiction of the Court depends on an error of law, or a question of law), other than appeals from the Local or District Courts;
 - proceedings under s 69 of the Supreme Court Act 1970 (NSW): specifically challenges based on an error of law on the face of the record; or jurisdictional error (“administrative law matters”); and
 - matters under the Industrial Relations Act 1996 (NSW) that were formerly dealt with by the Industrial Court (also known as the Industrial Commission in Court Session) (“industrial matters”).

Commencing proceedings in the List

6. Proceedings in administrative matters are generally commenced by summons.

7. In administrative matters, the words, "Administrative Law List" should be added immediately under the words, "Common Law Division" on the front page of the originating process and all other documents filed. In industrial matters, the words: "Administrative Law List – Industrial" should be added immediately under the words, "Common Law Division" on the front page of the originating process and all other documents filed.
8. Upon commencement, administrative law proceedings are automatically entered in the List pursuant to UCPR r 45.3. If not so commenced, they may be transferred to that list pursuant to UCPR r 45.2.

Urgent applications

9. Urgent applications, such as applications for ex-parte injunctions and/or leave to serve short notice of proceedings which on commencement will be appropriate for entry in the List, should be made to the Administrative and Industrial Law List Judge or, if he or she is not available, to the Common Law Duty Judge for that week. Depending on the urgency of the matter, the Judge who deals with the urgent application will normally make the proceedings returnable in the ordinary Directions List before the Registrar and will require a summons and affidavit to be filed and served.

Directions hearings

10. When the proceedings come before the Court for directions, all parties should be represented by someone familiar with the case so that the Court can give directions to enable the case to be prepared for hearing. Such directions will typically include dates for the filing of affidavits, particulars and/or production of documents (if necessary) and the determination of any interlocutory issues, as well as directions for the filing of written submissions. Any timetable fixed should be adhered to so as to avoid unnecessary appearances in the Directions List and the costs occasioned with such appearances. If a party is in default in adhering to the timetable set and such default necessitates additional appearances in the Directions List, consideration may be given to ordering the party in default to pay the costs of the additional appearances.

PROCEDURE IN ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS

Time limit for commencing proceedings in administrative matters

11. Proceedings by way of statutory appeal from an administrative tribunal pursuant to the provisions of the Act constituting the relevant tribunal are governed by UCPR Part 50. Such appeals must be instituted within 28 days: UCPR r 50.3. In such cases a statement of the grounds relied on must be served with the summons: UCPR r 50.4.

Parties in administrative matters

12. Unless there is a statutory provision to the contrary, the relevant tribunal, public body or official must be made a party to the proceedings and served with a copy of the summons. Where such tribunal or public body or official files a submitting appearance such tribunal, public body or official need not be represented at any directions hearing or substantive hearing and is automatically excused from further attendance: UCPR rr 6.10 and 6.11. If another party wishes to seek an order for costs against a submitting defendant, it must prior to such directions hearing, or within such further time as the Court may allow, give notice in writing to such submitting defendant setting out the grounds upon which such costs order will be sought: UCPR r 6.11.

Evidence in administrative matters*Statutory appeals concerning errors, or questions of law*

13. In the case of statutory appeals concerning errors of law the parties are referred to UCPR r 50.14. Where there is no allegation of denial of procedural fairness, in the ordinary course (bearing in mind the limited nature of the appeal) the only evidence necessary is a copy of the reasons below, a copy of the transcript in the proceedings in the Court below and a copy of any exhibit or affidavit or other documents from the proceedings below “that the plaintiff wishes to be considered at the hearing of the appeal” (UCPR r 50.14(c)).

Appeals limited to errors of law on the face of the record

14. In proceedings where the grounds of review are limited to errors of law on the face of the record (such as proceedings under s 69 of the Supreme Court Act), the evidentiary material should be limited to material that constitutes the “record”: Craig v State of South Australia (1995) 184 CLR 163 at 180-183; [1995] HCA 58. Usually the record does not include the evidence that was adduced before the decision-maker or the transcript of the hearing, but does include the reasons, if any, of the “court or tribunal for its ultimate determination”: s 69(4) of the Supreme Court Act.

Appeals based on jurisdictional error

15. If a plaintiff contends that a decision or action is affected by jurisdictional error then that error should be identified as such in the summons. If reliance is sought to be placed on material beyond that which constitutes the record, the body of the affidavit to which such material is annexed or exhibited must identify the jurisdictional error alleged and the connection between the additional material and the alleged error.

“No evidence” ground

16. Where the plaintiff relies on a “no evidence” ground, it is not necessary, in the absence of a direction to that effect, for the plaintiff to tender all the evidence before the decision maker in order to prove the absence of evidence to support a finding. Instead, in the summons, the plaintiff should identify with particularity the finding of the tribunal or decision-maker which the plaintiff contends was not supported by any evidence.

17. At the first return date, the parties are to confer about a direction by which any evidence relied on by the defendant in support of the finding is to be adduced. Failing agreement, the parties are to raise the matter before the Court.

Consequences of non-compliance

18. Failure to comply with these principles regarding the evidence to be adduced in such proceedings may result in special costs orders. The parties are referred to Insurance Australia Ltd t/a NRMA Insurance v Milton (No 2) [2016] NSWCA 173 at [7]-[12].

PROCEDURE IN INDUSTRIAL MATTERS

Originating process

19. UCPR r 6.3 provides that statement of claim is required to commence the following proceedings under the Industrial Relations Act:
 - (1) a claim for an order under s 106 that a contract is unfair (UCPR r 6.3(i));
 - (2) proceedings to recover a civil penalty under s 357 (UCPR r 6.3(j)); and
 - (3) a claim for remuneration or other amounts under Part 2 of Chapter 7 (UCPR r 6.3(k)).
20. The statement of claim for proceedings for a civil penalty under s 357 must be verified and state the matters set out in SCR, Sch J.
21. Applications under Chapter 5 of the Industrial Relations Act are to be commenced by summons: UCPR r 6.4(h1).
22. Proceedings under s 139 (for applications concerning contraventions of dispute orders) of the Industrial Relations Act require two summons: a commencement summons, which is filed, and a show cause summons (a draft of which is filed with the commencement summons): SCR, Sch J. A precedent of the show cause summons is available on the Supreme Court website. A supporting affidavit must be filed with the commencement summons. Where an application is urgent, the application is to be made before the Duty Judge or, by prior arrangement and subject to availability, before the Administrative and Industrial Law List Judge.

Conciliation required for recovery proceedings under Part 2 of Chapter 7

23. As the Court is not to make an order under Part 2 of Chapter 7 of the Industrial Relations Act until the parties satisfy the Court that they have unsuccessfully attempted to settle the matter by a conciliation conducted by the Industrial Relations Commission (s 371 of the Industrial Relations Act), the parties are to approach the Commission for conciliation and attempt to settle the matter by conciliation. If they fail to do so, the Court will refer the proceedings to the Commission for conciliation: UCPR, Part 20, Division 3A.

Costs of recovery proceedings under Part 2 of Chapter 7

24. Where proceedings under Part 2 of Chapter 7 that could have been commenced in the Local Court have been commenced in the Supreme Court, a costs order will not ordinarily be made unless the Court is persuaded that the commencement and continuation of the proceedings in this Court was warranted: UCPR 42.34(2)(b).
