NATIONAL PARKS AND WILDLIFE ACT 1974

Baiaime Cave Aboriginal Place
Milbrodale

Pursuant to section 84 of the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974, I, the Minister for the Environment, being of the opinion that the place known as Baiaime Cave is, and was, of special significance to Aboriginal culture, declare the lands described in Schedule “A” as an Aboriginal Place.

Baiaime Cave is a spiritual site depicting an exceptionally rare and unique pigment art representation of the ancestral ‘Creator’ Baiaime with his arms outstretched over the lands of the Wonnarua people.

Baiaime Cave is a unique and excellent example of Aboriginal rock art and is highly respected by the local Wonnarua people, numerous Aboriginal nations throughout south-east Australia and the wider community of the Hunter Valley, including the non-Indigenous community and the landowners who have continued to protect the site for more than 40 years.

The artwork depicting Baiaime signifies the site’s significance as an integral part of the history and social and cultural dynamics of Aboriginal culture and heritage within the Wonnarua area and surrounding Aboriginal communities. Baiaime Cave is linked to the Creation story, country and totem (the Eagle) of the Wonnarua people, and is interconnected with numerous other Aboriginal cultural and heritage sites and landscapes throughout the Hunter Valley and NSW.

Baiaime is directly associated with several significant Dreaming sites and stories throughout south-east Australia, which have been declared Aboriginal Places or listed on the State Heritage Register. Baiaime Cave is the only known and recorded rock shelter with larger-than-life, pigment art depicting Baiaime.

Baiaime Cave continues to demonstrate the importance of ancestral beings, creation stories and Dreaming sites in Aboriginal communities, providing the Wonnarua people with a place to maintain traditional practices and customs, share oral histories, creation stories and traditional lore (law). It is a place of special cultural, social and spiritual significance.

Signed at Sydney this 26th day of April 2016

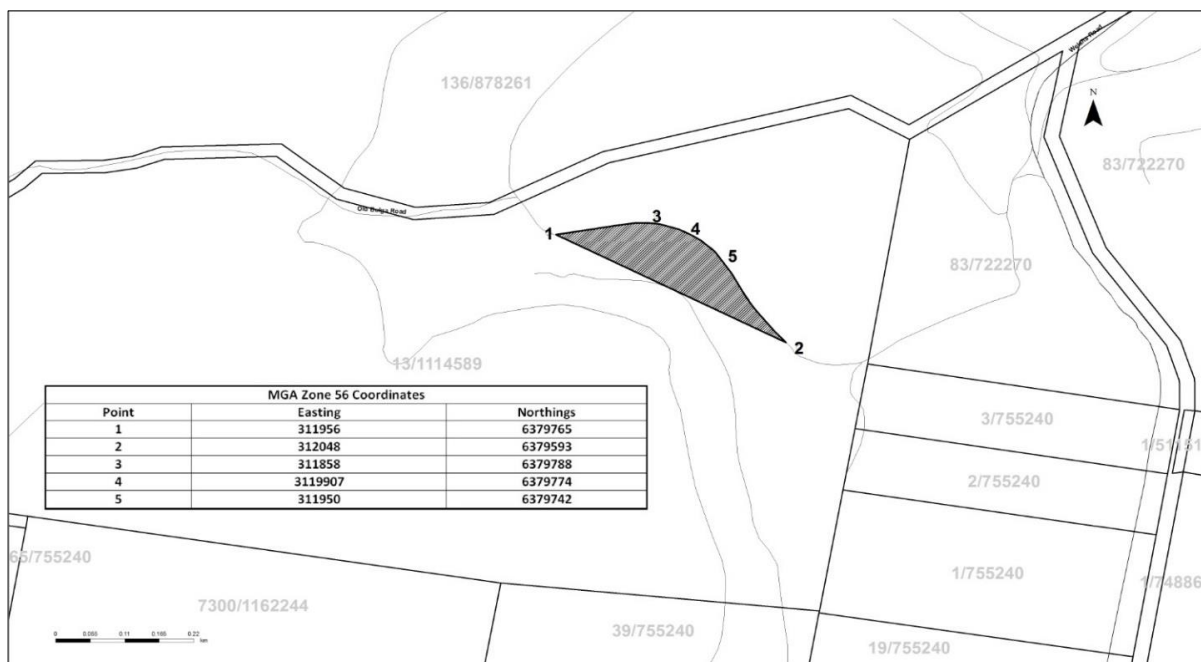

MARK SPEAKMAN SC, MP
