CHARITABLE TRUSTS ACT 1993
NOTICE UNDER SECTION 15
CY PRES SCHEME RELATING TO THE
JAN COPPLESON MEMORIAL PRIZE FOR CANCER MEDICINE

Section 12(1)(a) of the Charitable Trusts Act 1993 (the Act) permits the Attorney General to establish a cy pres scheme to alter the original purpose of a charitable trust. Section 9(1) permits the application of trust property cy pres where the spirit of the original trust can no longer be implemented.

The Jan Coppleson Memorial Prize (the Prize) was established by an inter vivos gift to the University of Sydney (the University) by Mrs Ann Yard (Mrs Yard) on 26 January 1984 to establish a prize of a minimum of $500 per annum to be paid to the University Faculty of Medicine as a capital sum each year during Mrs Yard's lifetime. The gift letter indicated that provision would be made to Mrs Yard's will for inter alia a bequest of the sum of $25,000 to enable the income therefrom to be used towards the continuation of the Prize after her death. As at 25 September 2022, the Prize was valued at $64,848.00.

Under the terms of the gift, the Prize was to be awarded annually to an undergraduate person who is the most proficient in final year in cancer medicine as judged by the results in the final exams for that year. The Sydney Medical School has existed since 1856 and forms part of the Faculty of Medicine and Health at the University. In 2014, the University replaced the undergraduate Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) with a postgraduate degree of Doctor of Medicine. The last cohort of MBBS was in 2013. As the undergraduate MBBS is no longer offered at the University, the original terms of the trust have become impossible to fulfil.

The University holds the gift from Mrs Yard on an express trust for the purpose of awarding a prize. Trusts for the establishment and award of prizes or scholarships for students at educational institutions or for study in a recognised field, such as medicine, are charitable as they fall within the charitable head of advancement of education.

As the University now offers medicine at a postgraduate level, a cy pres scheme is required to remove the requirement that the Prize recipient must be enrolled in an undergraduate degree, studying cancer medicine in their final year at the University. The proposed scheme would instead award the Prize to a student in medicine at the University who is most proficient in cancer medicine. While the proposed scheme removes the mechanism through which the Prize was to be awarded, by removing the requirement that the student's proficiency in cancer medicine be 'judged by the results of their final exams for that year', the University will determine the award of the Prize based on the University's scholarship and prizes policy current at the time the Prize is to be awarded. The Prize will continue to be styled or named the 'Jan Coppleson Memorial Prize for Cancer Medicine'.

As the Prize was intended to benefit medical students studying cancer medicine at the University, to commemorate Mrs Yard's late daughter, Jan Coppleson, the proposed new trust is sufficiently close to the original purpose of the trust.

In these circumstances, the Solicitor General, as the Attorney General's delegate, has approved the establishment of a cy pres scheme to alter the original purposes of the charitable trust so as to enable the Prize to be awarded to a student of medicine at the University who is most proficient in cancer medicine.

Take note that within one month after the publication of this notice any person may make representations or suggestions to the Attorney General in respect of the proposed scheme.
